BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTES

Many Distinguished Men of State and Nation Will Attend Funeral

SIMPLE SERVICES AT CHURCH

By WALTER J. CHRISTY.
(Staff Correspondent.)
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Beaver, Pa., May 30.—When the remains of Senator M. S. Quay are taken from the old home to the church at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, the family will have said a last farewell. Tonight and in the morning the residence will be closed to the outer world. Those who were closest to him in life want to spend the last hours with the dead free from intrusion. There will be a private service at the Quay residence tomorrow morning. The family will then permit the casket to be taken to the First Presbyterian church, from whence it will be returned to the house. The members of the family will not attend the public service, but will follow the remains to the grave in Beaver cemetery.

The casket in which the remains of Senator Quay will be placed tomorrow morning arrived in Beaver tonight. It will not be taken to the Quay home until dawn. Following the instructions of the senator, the coffin is as plain as possible. It is trimmed in black cloth, with handles of oxidized silver. On a silver plate is the inscription:

"Matthew Stanley Quay, born September 30, 1833; died May 28, 1904."

Floral Tribute from White House.

All day beautiful floral tributes have been arriving in Beaver. They have come from all parts of the country. One of the handsomest was sent by President Roosevelt from the White House conservatory. The flowers are being taken to the church. In accordance with the wish of the family, the names of the senders of these tributes are not being made public.

An immense crowd is expected in Beaver tomorrow. Friends of the senator from every county in the state have announced that they would be here to pay a last tribute to the man they have followed so long. From other states will come men who knew the colonel. One party of 50 from Cleveland telegraphed early this morning for hotel accommodations. From Philadelphia and the east there will be a trainload of people.

There has been a suspicion here all day that President Roosevelt would come to Beaver tomorrow. As he was in Gettysburg today with Gov. Pennypacker it was thought inasmuch as he was in Pennsylvania he could attend the funeral of Senator Quay without establishing a precedent. Members of the family say that they were not apprised of the president's coming and do not expect him. The cabinet will be represented. Secretary Moody of the navy will be here and probably some other cabinet officers. Attorney General Knox will be unable to attend.

Remains Will Lie in State.

The remains of Senator Quay will be taken to the church under a guard of honor from the Beaver G. A. R. post and will lie in state until 1 p. m. At that time the church will be closed and then reopened for the 2 o'clock service. The casket will be removed from the edifice. At the close of the services an opportunity may be afforded those who have come from a distance to view the remains.

The services will be simple. The Rev. D. Appleton Bash of the Methodist Episcopal church will make the opening prayer. A passage from the scriptures will be read by the Rev. Mr. Fields of the Church of Christ. The funeral oration will be delivered by the Rev. J. S. Ramsey, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The closing prayer will be offered by the Rev. R. P. Miller of the United Presbyterian church. The organist and choir from the Christ Methodist Episcopal church of Pittsburgh will furnish the music.

At the close of the services the members of the Quay family will enter carriages at their home, which is almost opposite the church, and follow the remains to the grave. The committee of the United States senate will act as the guard of honor. The committees from the senate and the national house of representatives and the cabinet officers will occupy seats in the middle of the church.

To the right will be Gov. Pennypacker, the other Pennsylvania state officials, including supreme, superior and district court judges and the state house and senate committees. To the left will be seated Mayor Weaver of Philadelphia and many members of the Quaker City council. Behind them will be Mayors Hays of Pittsburgh and Wyman of Allegheny, and councilmen from these cities.

The Beaver County Bar association will attend in a body. As the capacity of the church is but 600, it is plain that many people will be unable to secure entrance to the building. Pittsburgh policemen will be sent here to assist in handling the crowd.

So far Walter Merrick of Tioga county, naval officer at the port of Philadelphia, is the only man of prominence in state politics who has arrived. Ex-Senator J. Donald Cameron will be here early in the morning. He will probably come on the same train with Gov. Pennypacker. They are expected to arrive in Beaver at 9:30. The governor is accompanied by his secretary, Bromley Wharton.

Clarkson's Request Denied.

Gen. James S. Clarkson, who was vice chairman of the national Republican committee in 1888, telegraphed the Quay family for permission to assemble the surviving members of the committee at Favorite Hymns to Be Sung at Quay's Funeral.

The quartet of Christ Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, with the organist and choirmaster, have accepted an invitation given yesterday to assist in the services over Senator Quay's remains.

The quartet will sing the two well-known hymns, "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Abide With Me." They will chant the Lord's prayer and will sing another selection. This may be either "Some Sweet Day" or "In Heavenly Love Abiding."

The quartet is composed of Miss Alice M. Eastman, soprano; Miss Geraldine Dawson, contralto; Frederick I. Day, tenor, and Frederick W. Cutter, bass. The organist is Edward J. Herrington.

STUBBORN FIRE ON SOUTH SIDE

The Keystone Commercial Company's Warehouse Is Destroyed.

LOSS OVER $150,000

For the second time within two months the big warehouse establishment of the Keystone Commercial Company in Carson street, South Side, 53 to 59, inclusive, was the scene of a disastrous fire this morning. The fire was discovered at 12:15 o'clock, breaking out in the front of the third story. At 1:30 it broke through the roof and this was the first blaze seen by the firemen or spectators.

Previous to that time an immense volume of smoke but no flame issued from the building, and this was so dense that several firemen who attempted to enter the third story were almost stifled and had to be assisted to the ground by their comrades. When they reached the ground they vomited and were unable to resume work for some time.

The estimated loss from the fire at 1:30 o'clock was over $150,000.

Firemen Were Shocked.

Besides being prevented from entering the third story by the smoke the network of wires in front of the building stopped the firemen from extending a hose to the burning floor with a ladder-truck. The truck caught in the electric wires and the whole carriage became charged with electricity.

Some of the firemen had narrow escapes and it was the cries of these men which drew attention to the fact that the apparatus was dangerous from the fluid. The electric power was shut off and the truck removed, and then ladders were run up from the pavement and to the top of an adjoining second-story building, from which the top of the Keystone structure was reached.

It was fully half an hour after the accident with the ladder-truck before a stream of water was again playing through the windows of the third story.

The fire was wholly confined to the third floor at this time and for a time the smoke was the only sign that a fire was raging.

Saved by Cold Storage.

The Keystone Commercial building is a three-story brick structure about 60 feet wide and 50 feet long. In the rear it connects with an ironclad building about 300 feet long, which extends almost back to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad tracks. The third floor, where the fire did the most damage, was filled with plate glass and general merchandise. It was here the fire started and smouldered for over an hour before finding a vent in the roof.

In the second story were 10,000 cases of eggs and 30 tons of butter. This floor was used for cold storage and this kept the fire from making its way below. The first floor was occupied by the offices of the Keystone Commercial Company, and Hursh & Co.

Capt. James A. Henderson, an officer of the Keystone company, arrived at the fire about 1 o'clock and he estimated the loss of the contents of the building alone at $80,000. He said that $60,000 worth of eggs and $10,000 worth of butter had been destroyed on the second floor by water and smoke. On the third floor $20,000 worth of plate glass belonging to the Penn Plate Glass Company had been lost.

The watchman of the building, William Moore, said he was sitting in the office and saw smoke but no flames coming out of the third story and he sent in the first alarm.

The Second Blaze.

No cause was assigned for the fire. Two months ago a fire broke out in the top floor of the ironclad building in the rear of the brick structure damaged this morning. It is a coincidence that both fires originated in a stock of plate glass and that the causes of both have not been ascertained or made known. The fire two months ago was not so costly, the loss being about $10,000.

Several years ago the Keystone company, which was then the Henderson-Johnson Company, had a fire on the same

Sorrow Among Delaware Indians Because of Senator Quay's Death

To the Editor of The Gazette:

DEWEY, I. T., May 30.—The announcement of the death of Senator Quay was received here at the council town of the Delaware Indians with profound sorrow. Seven years ago, when Richard C. Adams went to Washington to represent his tribesmen in the matter of the famous Delaware claim, he found powerful influences arrayed against him. Without an influential friend to aid him, it seemed that another injury was about to be added to the many that the Delawares had suffered at the hands of our government during several centuries.

However, he sought Senator Quay, long noted for his friendship to Indian tribes, and laid before him the history of the contention. His friendship was won and he took up the fight for the Delawares. He fought their battle before the department, before the senate and before the president. Much was accomplished, and although the supreme court decided adversely in their main contention, the Delawares have received actual benefits amounting to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Senator Quay visited the Delawares during their annual Indian worship in the old Delaware synagogue here last fall. With befitting ceremony he was adopted into the tribe and the proud title of war chief was conferred on him. This is a distinction that has never been accredited to other than tribesmen, although many prominent statesmen have visited the tribe.

The Delaware Indians express their sorrow and extend their sincere sympathy to his bereaved loved ones at home, and may we live ever in remembrance of him as a very dear friend.

JOHN BULLEETE,
For All Delawares.

SPECIAL TRAIN TO THE FUNERAL

It Will Leave Union Station for Beaver at 12:50 P. M. With All Delegations.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ACTS

A special train will leave Pittsburgh today for Beaver to take those of Senator Quay's friends who may wish to attend the funeral. It is expected that those desiring to attend will be so numerous that more than one section will be needed.

The train will leave the Union station at 12:50 p. m., city time. It will stop in Allegheny, but will make no stops between Allegheny and Beaver. The special will return from Beaver immediately after the funeral services. As was the case with trains for the McKinley funeral, there will be no reduction of fare on the special train. The train is furnished at the request of Senator Quay's family to accommodate the senator's friends.

The delegations coming from Washington, Philadelphia, Harrisburg and other cities will arrive in Pittsburgh in time to go to Beaver on the special train. The delegation from Washington was to leave on a special train yesterday, but because of the absence of the members of the congressional committee the occupants of the train were mainly officials of the senate and house. The members of the committee will assemble here this morning.

There will be very few Republican politicians in the city today, most of them having decided to go to the funeral. Among those who expect to go are nearly all the county officers, Mayor Hays and city officers, Thomas J. Ford, chairman of the Republican county committee; Max G. Leslie, chairman of the Republican city committee; James Francis Burke, Dr. A. J. Barchfeld, John Bradley, most of the judges of the courts and Senator William S. Woods.

Many men prominent in political life in Allegheny county are on the committee appointed to represent at the funeral the National League of Republican Clubs by J. Hampton Moore, president of the league, who named the following from Pennsylvania: Robert H. Lindsay, Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., George W. McCandless, William McCaig, Archibald Mackrell, Fred W. Edwards, William R. Brown, Albert J. Edwards, Frank J. Klumpf, Charles A. Muehlbronner and Thomas G. McClure, all of Pittsburgh; David Hardy and George J. Falkenstein, McKeesport; John W. Crawford, Duquesne; W. D. Wallace and Lieut.-Gov. William R. Brown, New Castle; Clark Olds and Isadore Sable, Erie; William J. Surop, Clearfield; Edwin S. Stuart, David H. Lane, William H. Berkelbach, John Kelly, John Virdin, Joseph Call, John O. Sheats, John Mecleary, Jere Shaw and Henry R. Wildey, all of Philadelphia; Frederick W. Fleitz, Alexander F. Connell and Milton Lowry, all of Scranton; John B. Robinson, Media; George J. Llewellyn and Louis N. Hammerling, Wilkesbarre.

KUROKI FOLLOWS ON OKU'S HEELS

Japanese Victory at Kinchau Supplemented by Success in the North.

ANOTHER ARMY NOW LANDING

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chefoo, May 31.—From a Manchurian merchant it has been learned that the Japanese have occupied the Maotienling mountains, 100 miles north of Fung-Wang-Cheng and directly east of Liao-Yang. There is only one pass through the range.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Tokyo, May 30.—Further news of Japanese successes have reached the war office here. A detachment of Gen. Kuroki's army met and defeated 2,000 Cossacks at Ai-Yang-Pien-Men Saturday after an hour's engagement. The Japanese lost four killed and 25 wounded.

The news of this engagement is believed here to mean that the army under Gen. Kuroki is preparing for an advance toward Liao-Yang. Ai-Yang is about 40 miles east of Fung-Wang-Cheng.

Another army division is embarking for some point in the zone of war, and it is believed that their destination is on the northeast coast of Korea, where the Russians have been active recently, threatening Gen. Kuroki's communications. The expedition will consist of about 15,000 men.

Gen. Oku, in command of the Japanese forces operating against Port Arthur, reports that the Russians have abandoned Chen-Ko-Chen-Pau, Huang-Shan and Liu-Shu-Tun. No Russians have been seen east of Shen-Ko-Chen-Pau. Gen. Nakamura's detachment, which occupied Lin-Shu-Tun Friday, captured four Russian guns.

The attack on Port Arthur, is expected to begin about June 15. Correspondents will leave here June 10, in time to see the capture probably about June 20.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 31.—2:00 a. m. The reported defeat of Cossacks at Ai-Yang-Pien-Man was the only news and almost the only topic of conversation in St. Petersburg last night. No official dispatches were given out last evening, but officers at military headquarters were reluctant to accept the Japanese dispatches. They think it possible that the Japanese met Gen. Mistchenkou's command, which has recently been raiding in Korea. It is formed of comparatively raw recruits, though now somewhat hardened by three months' campaigning. It is conceivable that they might have been defeated, but not Rennenkampf's force patrolling the Ai-Yang region, who are veterans of that old command which accompanied him on the famous ride through Manchuria.

The war office has received the following dispatch from Gen. Kuropatkin under today's date:

"I this morning received a report stating that the Japanese advance on Kwan Tien has begun from Saimatsza. The numbers of the enemy are not known."

DEFIANT WORDS TO THE PAPACY

They Are Hurled from Heated Debate in Roman Chamber.

NOTE CALLED INSULT

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Rome, May 30.—The chamber of deputies was crowded today to hear the discussion on the interpellation of the attitude of the government toward President Loubet's visit. Signor Mazza, Republican, called the note of the papal secretary of state, Merry del Val, a perfect insult. He recalled that the pope had not protested against atrocious offenses to religion in France. His holiness had now risen against a king who, according to the vatican, had stolen the pontifical patrimony, designating his majesty as a usurper. The note, therefore, was a declaration of war.

Signor Mazza asked the government to take energetic action to prevent the invasion of the church into the kingdom's affairs. The government had forgotten all pride and national dignity in answering the vatican insult by giving hospitality to Cardinal Svampa when the king on Saturday went to Bologna. The government permitted the people of France to defend Italian rights.

Signor Guerci, Radical, followed, saying that this time the vatican is not protesting, but bleating. Signor Cabrine, Socialist, interrupted:

"Call it braying."

Signor Guerci said that Italy had less to fear from the papacy than other countries. Being near the vatican she could always see preparations behind the scenes. He complained that the pope, who in his career before he became pontiff, saw, appreciated and profited by Italian unity, should now, as pontiff, have as his inspirer and executive against Italy a foreigner, Cardinal Del Val.

Premier Giolitti, who arose amidst a breathless silence, said that the vatican note naturally was not communicated to the Italian government. France had answered as she thought best. The affair was one in which Italy could not interfere. The vatican note contained a phrase regarding the king of Italy, but the effect produced was such that they must be extremely glad of the existence of that phrase, as it had offered Premier Combes the opportunity to make a statement so flattering to Italian patriotism.

The crowded galleries rose and applauded for five minutes, crying: "Viva Combes." Signor Giolitti continued:

"Therefore the unhappy phrase was, for Italy, the happiest. The note contained the usual protest which the vatican has been repeating for 34 years. Italy has no reason to change her policy. She does not fear the invasion of the congregations, as she has laws to protect herself. If these laws are insufficient, we will make new ones."

The mayor worked day and ing and after the fire, going to superintend the dynamitting ings and sitting up all night to aid in the tangled mass of special legislation due to the conflagration. His labors would have exhausted the most robust. He felt keenly the defeat of his pet project to widen Baltimore street and his appointments on the burned district commission were the subject of much criticism. His elopement with the beautiful widow, Mrs. Mary Van Bibber on May 14, met with opposition from both families. These are the troubles that have combined to wreck his health and mentality. His apparent decline in health has been the subject of much comment.

Wife Gives the Alarm.

Mrs. McLane gave the alarm and all nearby physicians were summoned. Messages were hurried to the members of Mr. McLane's family, and the first to reach him was his father, James L. McLane. When he went into the room he found Mr. McLane lying on the floor in front of the bureau, in a pool of blood. He was lying all doubled up, with his head under his left shoulder.

The pistol, which was a five-shooter, was lying under the mayor's body. A white pistol holster was also under his right side. The bullet had penetrated the upper part of the right temple and had made its exit a little behind and just above the left ear. Both wounds were bleeding profusely.

Coroner Benjamin F. Hayden signed a certificate giving suicide as the cause of death, and the remains were turned over to an undertaking firm to be prepared for burial.

Mayor Robert M. McLane was married in Washington at noon on May 14 to Mrs. Mary Van Bibber of this city. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George C. Carter, rector of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal church. The bridal couple returned to Baltimore on Monday. The bride was the widow of Dr. John Van Bibber, and is a Baltimorean.

Mayor McLane gave no intimation of his immediate intention to renounce bachelorhood, and nothing was known of his act until late in the afternoon of his wedding day, when he telegraphed the information to Deputy City Solicitor Edgar Allan Poe, a close personal friend. When Mayor McLane did not appear at the city hall that morning it was reported that he had gone over to New York to attend to some business matter in which he and his brother are professionally interested. Friends and acquaintances of the mayor had been aware for several years that he was attentive to Mrs. Van Bibber, and there were rumors of an engagement, but Mr. McLane would not make public any facts in the case.

Came of Distinguished Ancestry.

Mayor Robert M. McLane was born in Baltimore November 30, 1857. In ascending to his position as mayor at the age of 36, he was the youngest chief executive Baltimore had ever had. The family of McLane has already given to Maryland a governor in the person of his uncle, now dead, from whom Mayor McLane took name. His great grandfather was Allan McLane, a soldier of the revolution. His grandfather was Louis McLane, United States senator, minister to the court of St. James, and secretary of the treasury and of state, respectively, under President Jackson.

Mayor McLane of Baltimore and His Young Wife Now a Widow

Mayor McLane was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. McLane of 903 Cathedral street. His sisters are Miss Fannie and Miss Frederica McLane and his brother is Mr. Allan McLane.

Mrs. McLane was Miss Mary Causby, one of the most beautiful women in Baltimore. Her first husband was the late John Van Bibber, a brother of Dr. Claude Van Bibber, who attended the dying man.

His Measures Were Criticised.

After preliminary training in a private school in this city, the late mayor took a collegiate course in the Johns Hopkins University, where he won several honorary scholarships. Upon leaving Johns Hopkins Mr. McLane entered the law department of the University of Maryland, and later was admitted to the Baltimore bar. Not long afterward he was appointed assistant to the late Charles J. Kerr, then state's attorney for Baltimore, and afterward became state's attorney.

As mayor, Mr. McLane gained great applause for the character of his appointments and had won almost universal praise up to the time of the fire. During the fire also his action was generally applauded by those who worked with him. His appointments on the fire district commission, however, failed to meet with popular approval, and he was the subject of much criticism that account. In the last two years, also, opposition on the part of the council to several of the mayor's plans developed.

Under the city charter, Mayor McLane will be succeeded by E. Clay Timanus, republican, president of the second branch of the city council, to serve out the unexpired term.

Of the romantic wedding of the bride, an estrangement between young man's bride and his parents, who know the families declare the elder McLanes were displeased at the young man's marriage; that they resumed a well-bred but icy indifference toward the bride, and that unhappy newlyweds lodgment in two homes as a result. Yet if family estrangement imagined Robert McLane to end his life his relatives will say so tonight.

Widow's Story of Tragedy.

Mrs. McLane said tonight that a few minutes before the shooting she and the mayor were in her apartment talking. They seemed to be in very good spirits, and were laughing together over a joke which he was trying. The mayor went to Mrs. McLane that he wanted his rights some articles in a bureau drawer in another room—the room in which the shooting occurred—adjoining the apartment in which they were chatting. Shortly after his departure Mrs. McLane heard a noise, which she thought was a shutter banging, and she called the maid, asking her about it.

The maid went upstairs, rapped on the door, and receiving no response, entered. The mayor was lying on the floor in front of a wardrobe mirror. The maid exclaimed to Mrs. McLane, who had followed her into the room:

"Mr. McLane has fallen and hurt himself."

As Mrs. McLane approached her husband she saw what had occurred. The pistol was lying on the floor by him. The mayor was breathing heavily, but was unconscious. She lifted his head, put a pillow under it and immediately sent for medical assistance. Mrs. McLane told the coroner that she did not know her husband had a revolver.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR THE QUAY FUNERAL

special meeting yesterday afternoon and appointed the following committee to represent the club at the funeral: S. J. Wainwright, Jr., James F. Burke, John I. Shaw, James W. Brown, H. K. Porter, W. H. Graham, Homer J. Lindsay, William McConway, John P. Barbour, Jr., James N. Cooke, R. B. Scandrett, George S. Houghton, William Schempp and T. L. Harper.

The committee will meet at the Union station at 12:30 this afternoon and take the special train at 12:50. Senator Quay was one of the oldest life members of the club.

President John Eaton of the chamber of commerce has appointed a committee of three to attend the funeral services. The members of the committee are Robert Pitcairn, Col. A. J. Logan and Secretary George H. Anderson.

On account of two holidays, Sunday and Decoration day, coming in succession, it was impossible to hold a meeting of the chamber of commerce to pass a suitable resolution on the passing of Senator Quay. This may be done later.

Several men of prominence from various parts of the state who will attend the funeral of Senator Quay arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday. Among these were Arthur L. Bates, Meadville; John O. Fisher, Indiana; S. R. Dresser, Bradford, and John P. Elkin, Indiana.

Mr. Elkin arrived in the evening. He went immediately to the Hotel Duquesne, where he took dinner, retiring at 10 o'clock. Mr. Elkin will be one of the pallbearers at the funeral. Mr. Elkin's tribute to Senator Quay's memory has already been published. He declined to say anything about the senatorship.

The Philadelphia delegation will arrive in Pittsburgh at 7:30 this morning and will stay at the Hotel Duquesne until the train leaves for Beaver. The party will be headed by Senator Boies Penrose.

Col. William H. Andrews, formerly of Allegheny, now of New Mexico, a life-long friend of Senator Quay, will arrive early this morning.

John W. Shartel of Oklahoma City, president of the Oklahoma Street Railway Company, arrived yesterday morning. He said regarding the late senator: "For the past few years we were personal friends. Quay had as much influence in Oklahoma as he had in Beaver. On all matters of importance, both political and financial, Mr. Quay's advice was sought. He was known in our city as the 'Grand Old Man of Pennsylvania. It was through his efforts that Pittsburgh capitalists interested themselves in the construction of street railways and other improvements made recently in our territory. It will be a sad pleasure to attend the funeral tomorrow."

QUAY'S DEATH DEPLORED BY PENNSYLVANIA CLUB

Resolutions of Respect Passed by Keystone State Men at Washington.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The board of governors of the Pennsylvania club of this city have directed that a minute be entered on the records of the club to the effect that by Senator Quay's death, "the nation loses a distinguished son and public officer and a valiant soldier and defender of its flag; that the state of Pennsylvania one of its most conspicuous and valued citizens and official representatives; the Republican party a leading exemplar of the great principle of protection to American industry, as the cornerstone of Republican and national supremacy, and this club a loyal member, always alert to maintain and advance its principles."

Wendell Andrews, the president of the club, was delegated to attend the funeral tomorrow at Beaver.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., May 30.—(Special.)—Beaver Valley post, No. 164, Grand Army of the Republic, last night adopted resolutions of respect in memory of Senator Quay and of sympathy for his family. They also adopted a resolution relating all business in this place be suspended on the day of the funeral, from 2:30 p. m.

VETERANS MET AT THE GRAVES

Despite the Weather Old Soldiers and SchoolChildren Went Through Memorial Services.

CROWDS AT THE CEMETERIES

Pittsburgh yesterday honored the nation's dead. No command was necessary for the warriors of a glorious victory to unfurl the stars and stripes in memory of the fallen soldiers, for the sentiment of Memorial day was enough to compel a general observance. The forces of the gallant fighters, fast being depleted, turned out, as the occasion demanded with ensignias and bands, to do honor to their comrades who long since have passed beyond. Each succeeding year Memorial day gains more and more significance as the time is not far distant when taps will be sounded over the last survivor. It was with this spirit that thousands of veterans all over the county yesterday donned their suits of blue and took their places in the ranks. Civic pride also was not wanting because as the day was observed if not commemorated by the populace. Banks and public, county and United States buildings were closed, the larger stores suspended and even the smaller trades people, in honor of the occasion, performed no work during the hours of the services in the cemeteries.

Old Men Still Vigorous.

The general observances, as in former years, were held at the graves of the dead, the more imposing ceremonies being at the cemeteries, where the graves are in greater number. The most touching part of the services was the strewing of flowers on the mounds, a custom which has now become part of the life of every war veteran. The flowers were contributed by the school children last Friday when the Grand Army men accepted the donations and cared for them until yesterday.

The movements to the cemeteries yesterday, which began early and lasted until after 3 o'clock, were imposing and characteristic of the valor and patriotism of the old soldier. Although years had whitened their hairs and burdens hung heavily on their shoulders they marched with some of their accustomed vigor of yore.

Several parades of the morning were delayed or abandoned on account of rain, but the veterans seemed not to mind the inclement weather.

By far the largest and decidedly most picturesque parade and impressive ceremony in Allegheny county were conducted by Maj. W. G. Lowry post No. 548. Practically all of Wilkinsburg turned out, drawing heavily from all parts of the two cities. The veterans, reinforced by military and civic escorts from the beginning of the line of march to Woodlawn cemetery, where the services were held and a monument to the soldiers dedicated. Congressman John Dalzell was the principal speaker and the honor guest of Lowry post.

Parade Was Big.

The parade formed about 11 o'clock at Wood street and Penn avenues, Wilkinsburg, and was made up of Lowry post, a detachment of Battery B, the Fourteenth and Eighteenth regiments of the national guard, 2,000 school children, the Third regiment of the Boys' brigade, uniform rank of Knights of Pythias, uniform rank of Knights of Malta, uniform rank of Knights of the Maccabees, the Wilkinsburg fire department and the Pittsburgh academy corps of cadets. The Consolidated brass band and veteran drum corps formed a part of the parade.

Upon arrival at the cemetery and departure salutes of 13 guns were fired. The formal presentation of the granite shaft, which was beautifully decorated with flowers, was made by President T. J. Keenan, Congressman Dalzell and Comrade Charles F. McKenna. The monument was accepted for the Lowry post by Commander B. Douthett. Burgess John A. Keys then made an address. A salute followed by Battery B and the Rev. Dr. T. H. Exton delivered the prayer of dedication. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Parry. The attendance was over 5,000.

Consented to Be Driven.

In Uniondale and Voegtly cemeteries in Allegheny, the North Side veterans marked the observance of the day with the usual exercises at the soldiers' plots. With a drizzling rain wetting their uniforms, almost 400 old soldiers marched from the various Grand Army posts, and forming in line in Sherman avenue at 8:30 o'clock, followed their bands to the burial grounds of their departed comrades.

Abe Patterson post, No. 88, under Commander John Montgomery, and accompanied by the Second Regiment Boys' brigade, went to Voegtly cemetery on Troy Hill. In the line of march no figure was so conspicuous as Capt. James Thompson, who in the war was captain of the famous Battery C, light artillery, of Pennsylvania. Capt. Thompson is almost 85 years old and for the first time consented yesterday to be driven over the line of march. In the years past the famous old warrior has insisted upon marching in the ranks with the men. The services at the graves of the dead soldiers were brief and simple.

One Slight Accident.

James M. Lysle Post No. 128, and J. B. Clark post No. 162 marched from Sherman avenue to Uniondale cemetery. They were accompanied by Swift's Boys brigade, Friend W. Jenkins camp, Spanish War Veterans, Sixth Ward Girls' brigade, American Military band, Providence Church Military association and the Grand Army band. George L. Irwin, commander of the day, delivered the charge to the veterans and the Rev. Walter Thorpe of the First Christian church, spoke. The singing of national airs by Brown's chapel choir was a feature of the program.

But one accident occurred to mar the exercises in Allegheny. By the premature explosion of a cap in one of the four small cannon used to fire salutes William Wenzel of Hays borough was painfully burned about the face. Wenzel had assisted in charging the piece and was in the act of examining the cap when it exploded. Bits of the cap penetrated Wenzel's face and it was first thought his eyes were injured. Dr. B. B. Smith, who was present, attended Wenzel at once and after dressing his wounds had him taken to his home. The ceremonies at the cemeteries were followed by banquets at each of the three post headquarters.

Thousands in the Rain.

Impressive ceremonies were held yesterday morning in the Allegheny and St. Mary's cemeteries, where more than 4,000 of the honored dead have resting places. The services were attended by crowds numbering from 2,000 to 3,000 people and in spite of a steady rain the programs were carried out in detail. The ceremonies were under the auspices of posts Chesstown.

At Lincoln cemetery the services were conducted by Col. R. G. Shaw post, No. 206.

McPherson post, No. 117, was among the active of the many posts yesterday. At 9:30 o'clock Commander Commander E. V. Goodchild, with a detachment of Sons of Veterans acting as an escort, the post moved from Penn avenue, up North Highland to Homewood cemetery, where ceremonies were conducted at the Grand Army of the Republic plot.

Thomas Espy post, No. 153, conducted memorial services at Chartiers cemetery, Carnegie, in the morning.

PASTOR'S WIFE DROWNED AT MEMORIAL CEREMONY

SALIDA, COL., May 30.—Twelve persons were plunged into the Arkansas river here today by the breaking of a footbridge on which a crowd had gathered to witness the ceremony of casting flowers on the water in memory of the country's naval heroes, and the wife of the Rev. Warren Thompson was drowned. Some of the others were unconscious when rescued and were revived with difficulty.

QUAY FAMILY WILL BE ALONE IN LAST HOUR WITH THE DEAD

the funeral. The request was denied, as it had been decided that it would not be in accordance with the senator's wishes. Gen. Clarkson will attend the funeral. Another old friend is coming in the person of Ben Sooy of Atlantic City. He is the man who went with Senator Quay in nearly all of his fishing excursions and one of the closest friends of the senator. Mr. Sooy will be accompanied by his wife and they will be taken direct to the Quay residence.

Senator Penrose, the Philadelphians who will attend the funeral, the Pennsylvania legislative committees and the state officials will arrive in Pittsburgh tomorrow morning at 8:30 o'clock. They will travel in four Pullman cars. At Pittsburgh the two Pullmans carrying the senate and congressional committees will be attached to the Philadelphia cars. Added to this train will be a private car. The occupants of this car are unknown, those who are acquainted with the personnel of the party declining to make public the names. These seven cars will be made into a special train and will leave Pittsburgh at 12:30 o'clock for Beaver.

The Pittsburgh special will depart at 12:50 and will be run as the second section of the eastern train. At Beaver carriages will be provided to take the members of the party to the church. President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company had hoped to attend the funeral. He wired tonight that it was quite probable that he would be unable to be here. Vice President McCrea of the Pennsylvania lines will come.

During the time the funeral services are being held in the church, the Beaver Valley Traction Company will stop every wheel on its line. Even the power plants will not be in operation. All of the cars will be draped with mourning. All the industrial plants in the Beaver valley will shut down tomorrow afternoon and most of the places of business will be closed. In Beaver, the entire town will turn out to pay a last tribute to the man who had made the town famous.

It has rained here throughout the entire day and there is a fear that tomorrow will be damp. During the afternoon the old soldiers of this vicinity gathered at the court house to hold memorial services. Tributes were paid to the memory of Comrade Quay. After the exercises many of the veterans called at the residence and were permitted to see the remains. The decoration of graves in the Beaver cemetery has been delayed until Wednesday. Then a wreath will be laid on the tomb of Col. Quay.

The Beaver County Bar association met in the law library this afternoon. J. H. Cunningham presided. It was decided that the members would attend the funeral in a body. A committee consisting of ex-Judge Henry Hice, John M. Buchanan, W. S. Moore, J. Rankin Martin and W. S. Morrison was appointed to draft resolutions on the death of Col. Quay. The senator was admitted to the bar in 1854 and was the second oldest member alive. J. B. Young is the dean of the bar.

Honored by Comrades.

At the Memorial day services of Beaver post No. 473, Grand Army of the Republic, the Rev. J. T. Pender of Pittsburgh gave the address. In closing he said: "I understand there are seven new graves this year. The eighth one will be dug tomorrow. It is that of the Hon. Matthew Stanley Quay. He was a man greatly honored in your midst and his loss is most keenly felt."

This morning R. R. Quay and W. F. Wright went to Beaver cemetery and selected the place where the senator's remains will lie. The grave will be in the family lot, near the center of the cemetery. He will lie beside his father. His mother's grave is just beyond this. At their feet are five graves of the senator's children.

The day before he died Senator Quay called his sons, R. R. and Maj. Quay, to his bedside and said: "You are going to lose your father. I will last through the night, but tomorrow I will die."

NO ACTION TILL AFTER FUNERAL

Gov. Pennypacker Will Take No Hurried Steps in Filling Senator Quay's Place.

OPINIONS AS TO PROCEDURE

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 30, Postal Building.
HARRISBURG, PA., May 30.

Gov. Pennypacker said this evening, on his return from Gettysburg, that he had not considered what action must be taken for the selection of a successor to Senator Quay. The governor also said that he would not take up the question until after the funeral and intimated that this was no time to talk about it.

Attorney General Carson, who was with the governor, also declined to discuss the subject. Mr. Carson will be unable to attend the funeral owing to an engagement to argue a case in the supreme court tomorrow at Philadelphia.

The governor and several other officials and employes will leave at midnight for Beaver. The governor will return immediately after the funeral, and then he will decide whether he shall call an extra session of the legislature or appoint a senator until the legislature meets next January to elect.

There is much speculation here as to what action is necessary for the election of a senator. Several attorneys here publicly discussed the question, and all reach the conclusion that the governor appoint at once, but at the same time he must call an extra session of the legislature.

Robert Snodgrass, a former deputy attorney general, is of the opinion that the governor may appoint, but he must call an extra session of the legislature to elect. "The constitution of the state is paramount," said Mr. Snodgrass, "when there is no express mandatory provision in the constitution of the United States to the contrary. The governor can appoint under the Constitution of the United States, but he must at the same time call the legislature in session to elect."

Lyman D. Gilbert, also a former deputy attorney general, said: "Under the Constitution of the United States, the senatorship, during a recess of a state legislature, may be filled by the governor by appointment, and that appointment shall last until the next meeting of the legislature, whose duty it is to fill that vacancy. Section 4, article II., of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides that when a vacancy in the office of United States senator happens during a recess between sessions the governor shall convene the two houses on notice not exceeding 60 days to fill the vacancy. The provisions of the two constitutions are in harmony. Until the legislature does meet, the governor has the right to fill the vacancy."

THIS CITY TO FURNISH POLICE PROTECTION

Squads of Officers and Detectives Go to Beaver to Guard Residence and Crowds.

Pittsburgh will furnish police protection for the funeral of Senator Quay today. Twenty-five of the largest policemen on the force, under command of Capt. Albert Tedrow and Lieut. Charles Grimes will go to Beaver this morning. Every man in the detail is over six feet. Among the officers so far selected are: Frank Yeager, Timothy Scanlon, John Jennings, Jerry Walsh, L. Snyder, Grant Stover, Edward Hughes, William Loughrey, Daniel Walsh, Burt Briggs, Peter Harralson and John Berry.

A conference was held yesterday between Acting Superintendent Wallace, Supt. McQuaide and Undertaker Samson, and it was decided that in view of the crowds expected to attend the funeral, special police would be necessary.

The squad of officers will be thrown about the Quay residence during the morning, they will be at the church in the afternoon, and will likely head the funeral cortege on the way to the cemetery.

It was also decided that a detail of detectives would be sent to Beaver to protect the crowds from pickpockets and other thieves. It is likely that Supt. McQuaide will take personal charge of these officers. Among the men so far selected are William Elmore, Edward McGough, William Riley and probably Charles Aymer.

DECORATION DAY AT FAIR.

Soldiers and Veterans Marched in Rain—Ball for President's Daughter.

ST. LOUIS, MO., May 30.—The first day of military week at the World's fair was rendered disagreeable by a torrential rain that fell during the afternoon. More than 5,000 military and quasi-military men passed in review before Major-General John C. Bates and President D. E. Francis.

After the parade Decoration day exercises were held in Festival hall, which was thronged by 5,000 persons. Maj. Leo Rassieur, past commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., presided. Samuel A. Wildman of Norwalk, O., made an address, and the reading of President Lincoln's address at Gettysburg, on November 19, 1863, followed.

Miss Alice Roosevelt and her friend, Miss Alice Warder, and Miss Irene Catlin, whom they are visiting, today visited the exposition. They were entertained at luncheon in the west pavilion by President Francis and members of his family.

Tonight the German national pavilion was thronged with invited guests at the first ball of the exposition, given in honor of Miss Roosevelt by Commissioner-General Lewald of Germany.

SPECIAL SESSION SEEMS PROBABLE

Gov. Pennypacker's Friends Believe He Will Convene the Legislature.

MUCH SENATORIAL TIMBER

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 30.

Those who are in a position to speak knowingly on "probabilities," are at this time restrained from being quoted on the subject of the senatorial succession. Not until the great leader has been finally laid to rest will something tangible be evolved from the mass of premature speculation.

Within the coming week leaders of the Republican state organization will have a conference with Gov. Pennypacker for the purpose of ascertaining his views. It is not known here whether the governor believes it his duty to convene a special session of the legislature, or that the vacancy should be filled by appointment. Those officially associated with the governor hold that he will call a special session; that his duty in this respect is mandatory. Organization leaders, however, are opposed to an extra session, both on account of the expense, and the number of vacancies which would have to be filled by special elections. It would cost $100,000 to fill existing vacancies. Also, it is contended an extra session at this time might possibly result in factional disturbances which the leaders desire to avoid.

Here the opinion is expressed that if the governor thinks the vacancy should be filled at once he can do so by appointment. Insurance Commissioner Durham is expected home at the end of this week. His advice will have potential bearing upon the result. It is conceded that the candidate backed by Penrose and Durham will have a fairly easy time of it. Penrose, Durham and McNichol will agree upon their course of action as soon as the former gets home.

Thus far there has been a free-for-all expression of opinion as to available candidates. An authority on such events today predicted that a man west of the Alleghenies would be elected or appointed. This authority said that John P. Elkin would remain on the state ticket and be elected as associate justice of the supreme court. He said no political exigency which could arise would justify a change of the decision of the state convention when it, by acclamation, nominated Mr. Elkin.

My informant made the further announcement that ex-Senator J. Donald Cameron would be considered. Mention of the name of Henry C. Frick is also regarded in the light of pleasant conversation, and Mr. Sibley's chances are regarded even more lightly. The Sibley "movement," it is said, has suited its end early to suit the friends of Senator Quay.

After this amount of elimination the names left to conjure with are Congressmen Dalzell, Huff and Acheson; ex-State Senator William Flinn, Francis L. Robbins, Francis Torrance and Richard E. Quay. It is true that there may be some dark horses and that the winner may come from among them.

SENATORS LEAVE THE CAPITAL FOR BEAVER

Special Car Left Washington Last Night With Old Friends of Quay on Board.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30.—A special car attached to the 7:45 Pennsylvania train left here this evening for Pittsburgh carrying a number of the members of the congressional committee appointd to attend the funeral of Senator Quay at Beaver tomorrow.

The party was in charge of Sergeant-at-Arms Ransdell of the senate, and those on board were Senators Foraker of Ohio, Cockrell of Missouri, Mitchell of Oregon and Allee of Delaware, Representatives Porter of Pittsburgh and Huff of Greensburg, Delegate Reed of New Mexico, Col. W. R. Andrews, secretary of the Pennsylvania state Republican committee, and Harry K. Dougherty of Mercer county, member of the legislature.

The other senators and representatives designated to attend the funeral will meet this party at the Hotel Schenley in Pittsburgh tomorrow and all will proceed on a special train to Beaver at 1 o'clock.

Sergeant-at-Arms Ransdell has arranged through a Washington florist to have a beautiful floral piece prepared at Pittsburgh on behalf of the United States senate and sent to Beaver. The design for it was left to the judgment of the florist, who is given carte blanche in the matter.

DID MORE FOR NATION THAN HIS ASSAILANTS

Secretary Frank M. Fuller Pays Tribute to Senator Quay's Genius.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

UNIONTOWN, PA., May 30.—Secretary of the Commonwealth Frank M. Fuller of Uniontown, today paid the following tribute to Senator Quay:

"I knew Senator Quay for many years. His kind heart and generous nature made men love him, while his great ability compelled admiration, respect and confidence. No doubt he was the master political genius of his time, but those who regarded him merely as the politician, did not know all of the man. In late years no other American has shown a broader, stronger grasp of those great questions of natural policy that make or mar a nation, and none of his contemporaries discerned with equally unerring accuracy the effect of this or that line of party policy.

"He accomplished much for the state and nation, far more than those who from time to time assailed him. At times in his long and busy life the elements around him were stormy, yet he was gentle, for the best of his nature led him to forgive and forget, and if the record of his many kind acts could be made public it would abash some of his detractors. Mistakes he may have made, he was human. Still we ask the question: 'Who can take his place?'"

Dreyfus Scandal Revived.

PARIS, May 30.—The ministry of war has caused the arrest of an officer who is understood to have been connected with the Dreyfus affair. BUGGY PROVED A CHARIOT OF DEATH

Fatal Ending to Negro's Quarrel in Notorious "Soho Vaults."

QUICK WORK OF DETECTIVES

While seated in a buggy with three friends, a negro variously known as Charles Allen, Harvey Allen and Charles Henderson, was shot and almost instantly killed by Ben Kelly, in Second avenue, near the Twenty-second street bridge, shortly after 6 o'clock last night.

As his body fell prostrate the other negroes in the rig whipped up the horse and started on a mad chase to the office of Dr. Paul Eaton, 2126 Fifth avenue, nearly a quarter of a mile away. Allen was dead before the destination was reached.

The sight of an apparently dead man in the vehicle caused great excitement among the residents of Tustin and Van Braam streets, and a great crowd followed behind the rig. By the time Dr. Eaton's office was reached the throng had become so great that Fifth avenue was packed from curb to curb and street cars were completely blocked.

Crowded Around Vehicle.

So dense was the crowd that it was impossible to carry Allen into the doctor's office, and it was several minutes before Dr. Eaton could fight his way to the side of the buggy. The blood had ceased to spurt from Allen's wound and it did not require the physician's services to make it evident that he was dead.

The body was finally carried into the office and remained there until the morgue wagon arrived half an hour later.

"Soho Vaults" at 2217 Second avenue, notorious for many years as the habitat of "Hoi-Hait" Riley and his speakeasy, was the scene of the murder. By remarkably quick work the police succeeded in capturing Kelly and a quartet of witnesses as they were about to escape.

The trouble between the men had been of long standing. Allen formerly lived with Kelly, the latter being landlord of the entire three-story tenement, and subletting to other tenants, mostly negroes. A quarrel over rent caused Allen to leave about two weeks ago. A few days later Mary Travers, colored, of whom Allen was said to have been enamored, went to live with Mrs. Nellie Rogers in the "Vaults."

Last Thursday Allen called at the place and is said to have threatened to kill Kelly, the Travers woman and Henry Smith, who also lives in the house. He was ejected and is alleged to have threatened vengeance.

Drew Their Guns.

Yesterday in company with "Cooney" Jones, of 98 Soho street; Robert Shorter, of 114 Anthony street and Elmer Taylor, aged 19, of Hillside street, Allen drove up to the "Vaults" in a buggy.

Leaving his friends outside, he went to Kelly's room, on the third floor, and an argument followed. Allen started down the stairs, with Kelly at his heels. At the street door they began calling each other names. Allen got into the buggy, but handed the reins to Shorter, in preparation for a fight with Kelly.

The latter drew a .38-calibre revolver and fired point blank at Allen, the bullet striking him just above the breast bone and severing the jugular vein. Allen collapsed, but was prevented from falling from the rig by friends.

Kelly ran back upstairs and, after entering his room, had Henry Smith fasten the door with a padlock on the outside and slip the key to him through a small hole in the door. He then began changing his clothes preparatory to flight.

After trying to staunch the flow of blood from Allen's wound, Jones and Shorter started the horse on a mad run for the office of Dr. Paul Eaton, 2126 Fifth avenue. The physician at once pronounced Allen dead. Shorter stayed with the body while Jones and the boy Taylor started to drive to the South Side.

Quick Work of Detectives.

By this time Detectives Charles Aymer and Oscar Siefert had arrived and at once arrested Shorter and sent him to the Center avenue police station. They then telephoned to the South Side police, with the result that Jones and Taylor were arrested just as they had crossed the Twenty-second street bridge.

The detectives then went to the "Vaults" to look for Kelly. The tenants in the house declared that the negro had left, and pointed to the padlocked door as evidence that no one was in the room. The officers threatened to shoot through the door unless it was opened, and Kelly at once handed out the key through the small hole. He offered no resistance and was taken to Central police station.

After his arrest Kelly declared that he believed Allen was about to shoot, and claimed that he fired in self-defense. However, no weapons were found on Allen when he was taken to the morgue.

Late last night all the prisoners were taken to Central station and will be arraigned before Magistrate Stewart this morning.

COUNCILMEN WILL GO TO SENATOR'S FUNERAL

Small Chance of Quorum of Select Branch Today—Common Meets Tonight.

Although a regular meeting of select council is called for this afternoon, there is little prospect of a quorum of the upper branch. A number of select councilmen stated yesterday that they would attend the funeral of Senator Quay at Beaver this afternoon, and they did not believe that enough members would be present at the city hall today to have a meeting.

Common council is called for tonight, and will very probably have a quorum, because this branch seldom fails to meet. The presidents of both branches are absent from the city. President Wightman is attending two weddings today and President R. B. Ward of common council is in California. He will be absent two weeks longer.

J. J. McKelvey of the Tenth ward will likely be chosen president pro tem of common council, as he was elected at the last meeting and the Citizens fear if they put up another candidate he will be defeated. At the last meeting McKelvey, although a Citizen, was selected by the Republican members to divide the strength of the Citizens. The majority of the Citizens had decided to nominate A. G. Roenigk, but when Roenigk found the McKelvey combination was too strong for him he withdrew.

BANDIT DEMANDS RANSOM OR DEATH

Moorish Outlaw Threatens to Kill His Captives If Payment Is Not Made.

AMERICAN SHIPS AT TANGIER

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau.
Room 30, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 30.

According to advices received at the state department today from Mr. Gummere, United States consul general at Tangier, the situation as it affects the American and British citizens captured by bandits has grown more serious. A message has been received at Tangier from Raisuli, threatening the lives of Perdicaris and Varley unless the government of Morocco pays the ransom under conditions named by the bandits. The state department has made no new move in the matter today, but is trusting to American naval officers to relieve the situation.

Admiral Chadwick arrived at Tangier this morning on the flagship Brooklyn. The Atlanta followed. Mr. Gummere notified the state department of the arrivals and the navy department received a cablegram direct from Admiral Chadwick. The other vessels in his squadron, the Marietta and Castine, should arrive at Tangier tonight, as they left the Canaries only a few hours after the Brooklyn.

In his dispatch to the state department, Mr. Gummere said nothing further had been done toward effecting the release of the prisoners, and it is not believed there will be any change in the situation until the complete squadrons of Real Admirals Chadwick and Jewell reach Morocco and are ready to assist in any movement which may be made against the bandit chief. The European squadron, under Rear Admiral Jewell, sailed from Horta Saturday and should reach Tangier tomorrow.

Press dispatches from Tangier announce that there is no truth in the rumors that Perdicaris and Varley have gone wild boar hunting and are having a pleasant time.

TANGIER, May 30.—Rear Admiral Chadwick, accompanied by an aid, the United States consul general and two marines, visited M. Torres, the representative of the sultan at Tangier. The interview lasted 10 minutes, after which M. Torres returned the visit at the United States consulate, the Brooklyn firing a salute in his honor.

M. Torres has informed the American and the British representatives that he cannot grant Raisuli's terms. A special courier, it is reported, has been sent to the sultan conveying the American view.

THE ANGELUS

The owner of an Angelus can enjoy the works of the great masters or selections from the comic operas or the new things in dance music and popular songs without being obliged to buy the music outright.

Membership in the Angelus Circulating Library of Music, which contains thousands of pieces and is continually adding new ones, costs very little.

A fee of $30 a year entitles one to 24 rolls of music every month, with privilege of retaining them a month from date of drawing and of renewing for one month.

A fee of $15 a year entitles members to draw 6 rolls of music of his own selection and may thereafter exchange them at any time during his term of membership.

At the expiration of membership in this class members are allowed a cash rebate of $5.

MORE GOSSIP ON THE SENATORSHIP

Richard Quay Did Not Decline to Be Considered, Not Having Discussed Subject.

DURHAM MUST BE CONSULTED

That Richard R. Quay has not declined to accept the United States senatorship in case it should be offered to him is pretty well settled. Mr. Quay was indignant yesterday when informed of the report that he had discussed the contingency just before his father's death, and it is believed now, that while J. Donald Cameron was entrusted by the dying senator with a message to Gov. Pennypacker recommending the selection of Richard Quay, Mr. Cameron said nothing to young Quay about it, knowing that the knowledge of his father's impending death had filled him with grief and he would brook no reference to what might happen in politics after the senator's demise.

While there is considerable gossip concerning Senator Quay's successor, it is likely that nothing definite will be determined upon without the presence of the Philadelphia leader, Israel W. Durham, who is now on his way from the west. Mr. Durham cannot get to Pennsylvania until after Senator Quay's funeral, but upon his arrival there will be a conference among all the state leaders. Of course quiet work is being done now in behalf of some of the candidates for the place, but it is not seriously expected that without Durham any program that can be lived up to can be mapped out.

Speculation on the Governor's Action.

The report that Henry C. Frick would be supported by the local Republican organization was published yesterday, but the local leaders are not discussing the Quay succession for publication now. Hints were thrown out that Attorney General P. C. Knox's chances of being selected were looming up; that Joseph C. Sibley's would hardly be considered, because of his record as a Greenbacker and a free silver Democrat, but that his backing would be satisfied with Knox if it were deemed inadvisable to elect H. C. Frick.

What Gov. Pennypacker may do is enveloped in uncertainty. The governor has a habit of making up his own mind without consulting anybody else. The governor is known to be a sticker for law and the state constitution, and it is admitted that it is probable he may decide to abide by the letter of that document and call the state legislature together to elect a senator, at a cost to the state of more than $250,000. The present attorney general, Hampton L. Carson, appeared before the United States senate in opposition to the seating of Senator Quay when Gov. Stone appointed him, there maintaining that the legislature alone had the right to name a senator and that may be another reason to induce the governor to call the legislature in extra session. As, however, under the Constitution of the United States, it would be perfectly legal for the governor to appoint a senator, thus saving the state much money, it is believed by many that the governor might feel himself justified in making the appointment himself.

May Neither Appoint or Convene.

Another contingency was stated about yesterday. The legislature will meet in regular session next January and will at the usual time proceed to ballot for a United States senator. In view of this fact the governor may, it is suggested, balance in his mind the mandatory clause of the state constitution, and may decide that the cost of an extra session is not justified and neither appoint a senator nor call the legislature together.

The governor is sensitive to criticism. Should he make an appointment and not call the legislature, it might be said that he sought the opportunity to make an appointment of doubtful legality under the state constitution; while if he put the state to the expense of an extra session other critics might condemn him for not having saved the money by making an appointment himself. Hence, it is suggested, the governor may conclude neither to make an appointment nor to call the legislature together, but to let matters rest until the regular session of the legislature. Nevertheless, it must be remembered that only Gov. Pennypacker knows what the governor will do.

It is believed by many that John P. Elkin would make a formidable candidate should he decide to become a candidate for Senator Quay's seat and reject the supreme court nomination given him by the last Republican state convention. Mr. Elkin was a strong candidate for the nomination for governor; he is a power in the state organization, both by reason of his own personality and his friendship with Durham, and has besides a strong personal following now out of office that will urge his selection as senator.

Penrose to Be Heard From.

Senator Penrose is likely to have considerable to say concerning the selection of a successor to his late colleague. If the governor decides to appoint, Penrose would probably favor Richard Quay; gratuitous to Senator Quay for what he did for Penrose might cause the latter to favor Richard Quay for election even. It would be only human nature, too, for Senator Penrose to weigh the advantages of keeping down a possible rival for Republican leadership, before favoring another person than Senator Quay's son.

SOUTH SIDE RECREATION PARK FORMALLY OPENED

Daughters of Revolution Present Grounds With American Flag. Club Women Present.

Prominent club women, Daughters of the American Revolution, members of the Grand Army, the cadets of the Birmingham school and several hundred children joined yesterday afternoon in throwing much spirit into the exercises which opened the South Side recreation park for the summer. The arrangements were in charge of the joint committee of women's clubs, with Mrs. Samuel Miller sub-chairman for the park.

The Pittsburgh Chapter, D. A. R., presented a large flag, which was unfurled while a band played the Star Spangled Banner. Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon made the presentation speech, and responses were made by Dr. R. M. Patterson, principal of the South Side High school, and William T. Powell of G. A. R. Post No. 151.

Miss Julia Morgan Harding, president of the Century club, introduced Mrs. George A. Gormley, who in the name of the club presented a company flag to the cadets. She told of the experience she once had in camp when she visited her father, the late Gen. Alexander Hays. The captain of the cadets made a neat speech of acceptance, and was followed by the Rev. A. A. Nellis, Baptist church. By a vote of the children Mrs. Samuel S. Miller, who is in charge of the park, was selected to raise the flag, which she did amid much cheering.

Detectives to Bring Back Fugitive.

Detective Leff leaves this morning for Chicago to bring back James Fanning, wanted here on a bench warrant. With his brother, John Fanning, James was arrested June 17, 1903, for stealing 18 crates of eggs from U. G. Bartlett, a Penn avenue commission merchant. On the day set for trial James was in court but, when he heard John plead guilty, he left and he was not discovered until a few days ago.

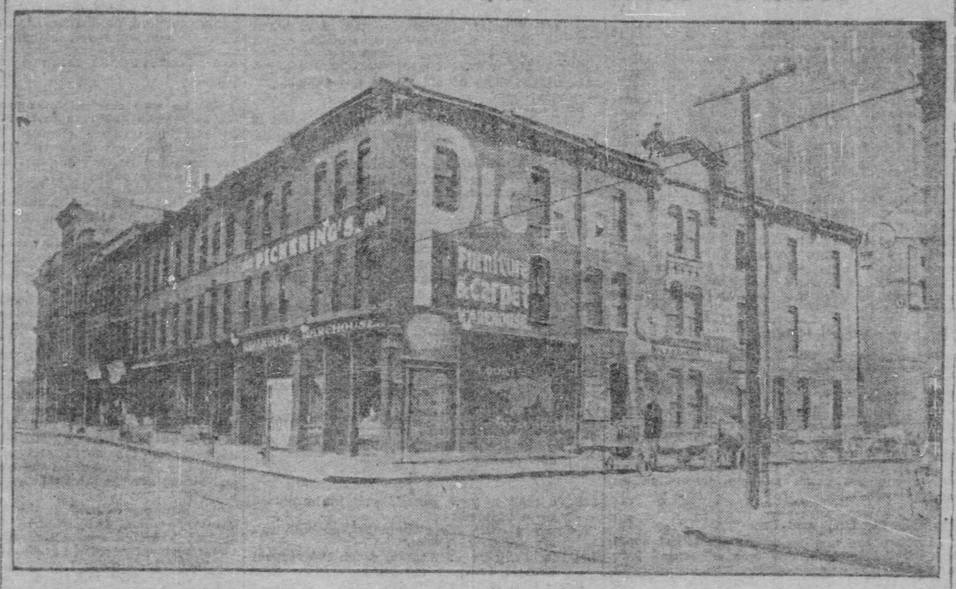
Will Provide Up-to-Date Business Places



Notices were served yesterday on the 15 tenants of the building at the southeastern corner of Penn avenue and Tenth street to vacate within 30 days. The structure is owned by W. L. Abbot, President of the Iron City Trust Company, and it is his intention to remodel it and provide up-to-date business places. The building is well adapted for commercial purposes, and is considered one of the best paying properties in that section of the city. Pickering's furniture store has, for the past 10 years, occupied a portion of the building as a warehouse, and has been the recipient of a notice similar to the one served on the tenants. This will necessitate the removal of the large stock of stored there.

esday, May 31, 1904.

e desires to call the attention its readers who contemplate mmer trips to the announcements of the many summer resort hotels published on page 12 of this issue.

Today The Gazette business office will be open in its handsome new quarters, corner Wood street and Oliver avenue. The Gazette will be glad to welcome its old patrons at the new place of business and will be better able to serve them. The growth of The Gazette's business has compelled enlargement of facilities, and to accommodate the public and itself better, it has provided its new building at the corner of Wood street and Oliver avenue.

Admiral Chadwick has arrived at Tangier and exchanged official courtesies with the sultan's representative, and a courier has been sent to the sultan himself to acquaint him with the decision of the United States and Great Britain to refuse Bandit Raisuli's demands. Meantime it is heard in Tangier that threats have been made against the lives of Ion Perdicaris and Cromwell Varley, and the opinion prevails in the town that they are in worse plight than at the beginning. Probably so. It is in the power of Raisuli to murder his captives. If he does it will be worse for him. Uncle Sam and John Bull are ready to pursue him across the continent of Africa if he resorts to any such vengeance. Incidentally, they are also likely to stir up the sultan of Morocco to a painful sense of his duty to American citizens and British subjects. It is not merely a matter of the lives of two men.

Grover Cleveland has spoken again. This time it is not in defense of his administration of the presidency, but is an indorsement of the candidacy of Judge Parker. He admits that the New York jurist is his third choice and that he would prefer either Richard Olney or Judge George Gray. It is evident the conservative wing of the Democracy is making a great fight to gain the ascendancy at St. Louis, and Judge Parker, if not the man of their choice, appears most available for the purpose. However, the judge is not gaining votes as rapidly as some might wish, and this interview of Mr. Cleveland is probably put out to bolster the Parker boom. The effect may be to stimulate the opposition in their efforts to gain one-third of the votes and thus be able to force a compromise. Judge Parker's lead is not yet strong enough to predict victory for him, and it is possible that the silver forces may yet gain the coveted one-third. Verily the plight of the Democracy is serious.

There is considerable speculation as to whether Gov. Pennypacker will exercise his prerogative under the Constitution of the United States and appoint a successor to Senator Quay temporarily, or obey the mandate of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and call an extra session. The Constitution of the United States says "the governor may appoint," that of Pennsylvania says "the governor shall convene the two houses, by proclamation on notice not exceeding 60 days." An extraordinary session will be expensive and inconvenient. Many argue that it is unnecessary, but the strict constructionists hold there is no other way. Gov. Pennypacker will reach the matter in good time and will take the right course. He is competent to construe the Constitution and decide the legal point involved. If that leads him to make an appointment in the interest of economy he will do it, but if he is bound to call an extra session the onus is upon the framers of the Constitution and not upon the executive.

There appears to be much confusion away from Pittsburgh regarding its institutions. The editor of the Municipal Gazette who attended the convention of the National Association of Manufacturers in Carnegie music hall speaks of the addition being built to Carnegie Institute at a cost of $500,000, and says: "The addition, when completed, will be devoted to the proposed Free School of Technology." Recently Dr. Dinion, New York, made the statement a technical school was being added to Carnegie Institute. For the information of these editors and others, we may say the addition to Carnegie Institute, comprising library, art galleries, museum and music hall, is for the accommodation of those departments. The Carnegie Technical schools are a separate institution and will have a group of buildings of their own some distance from the library building. Mr. Carnegie has given to this new institution a building fund and an endowment of $5,000,000, which has no connection with the $8,500,000 donated for the addition to the institute. It is just as easy for our friends to be accurate.

Japan's Plan Developing.

Gen. Kuropatkin informs the government at St. Petersburg that the Japanese are landing another army of not less than 15,000 men in northeastern Korea. He is unable to state whether the troops are aiming for Vladivostok, or are merely intended to clear the Cossacks out of Korean territory. The Japanese observe their customary silence concerning the movement, being satisfied to let events tell the story.

This landing is but another evidence of the completeness of the Japanese plan and preparations. Port Arthur being beleaguered; Mukden being threatened; Niuchwang being ready to fall into Japanese hands as soon as it is approached; the time is now rife for sweeping the Russians completely out of Korea and threatening the Russian port at the north. It is impossible to say whether the advance toward Vladivostok will be pressed rapidly or not. That will depend in part upon Russia. If any fleets are started from European waters for the far east they will have no ports to enter if the Japanese can possibly prevent, and their record up to the present indicates their ability to interpose obstacles. Port Arthur is valueless now as a haven for Russian warships. It will remain so as long as the Japanese have it closely invested. They cannot afford, however, to simply hold it in a state of siege indefinitely unless Gen. Kuroki is able to drive Gen. Kuropatkin back to Harbin.

It appears probable now that Gen. Kuroki, with the first and third armies, will begin a forward movement and test the strength of Gen. Kuropatkin's positions before an assault is attempted upon Port Arthur. Such an advance will tend to prevent the dispatch of heavy re-enforcements from the Russian central army toward Vladivostok and also to prevent the possibility of a movement to relieve Gen. Stoessel at Port Arthur. Russian reports indicate the complete landing of the third army at the head of the Bay of Korea and the beginning of the forward movement. The first army has extended its left wing, forming a junction with the third toward Siu-Yeng, while the third army has spread out its left to a junction with that portion of the second army landed at Pitsewo, which has moved north and west to cover the rear of Gen. Oku's operations about Port Arthur. This gives the Japanese a very long frontal line, but it is less extended than that of the Russians between Liao-Yang and Niuchwang and it has the advantage of better form.

There may be another lull for a few days, marked by outpost fighting, but it will not be long until there is stirring news again. The Russians are good fighters, as European soldiers go, and they are being thoroughly wrought up to their work. The Japanese have proven that their own efficiency was more responsible for the easy victory over China 10 years ago than the weakness of the Chinese. June is quite certain to be full of action.

Panama Difficulties.

One of the serious difficulties to be met when the work on the Panama canal is begun is the effect of the climate upon machinery. The moist, warm air has the quality of corroding iron and steel very rapidly. Much of the machinery sent to the isthmus by the old French company is lying there now, absolutely rotten. Iron parts are so oxidized that a knife may be thrust through them as through rotten wood. It may be assumed, of course, that when Yankee contractors take hold of the job machinery will not be allowed to lie idle long enough to rust out, but nevertheless the effect of Panama atmosphere on metal must be taken into the calculation.

A more serious thing is the "Panama ghost," the white mist that rises from freshly turned earth. It is highly poisonous and its victims may be counted by thousands. Sanitation will overcome the ordinary unwholesomeness of the tropical climate, but the famous "white ghost" is not so easily dealt with. Natives of the country flee from it as from a pestilence. When that white mist is rising they get as far from it as convenient without undue exertion, and no amount of money would induce them to do any work where it exists. The young French engineers held it in contempt at first and paid the penalty with their lives.

Just what can be done to lessen this peril remains to be determined. The canal cannot be dug without turning the soil and when the sun beats upon the fresh earth the white mist rises. Medical science has made some progress in a quarter of a century and sanitary science has made more. They may be able between them to disarm the Panama "ghost." Unless they can the big ditch will be costly in human life as it will in dollars.

Mayor McLane's Death.

Scarcely recovered from the stunning shock of her great fire, the city of Baltimore today stands again stricken by the death of her youthful and almost idolized mayor. Dead by his own hand and amidst the staggering burden and responsibilities such as rarely fall to the lot of a city executive, the sudden taking off of Mayor McLane is rendered immeasurably more pathetic in that it occurred while he was in his honeymoon, for he leaves behind him a bride of only a few days.

To the pathos of the event is added, too, a mystery. If the theory of suicide be true, it passes conjecture why a young man of character untarnished, the scion of a distinguished line of ancestors who had made Maryland famous, the possessor of a reputation for public service remarkable for one of his years, and of a promise for future honors justly warranted by his past record—above all, the recipient of that last cup of happiness which is supposed to add the very fullness to a man's measure of joy, a beautiful, accomplished and devoted wife—why such a man should have found life burdensome enough to have violently cast it from him is one of those mysteries which, perhaps, will never be solved.

To the city of Baltimore the death of Mayor McLane will mean much. It was chiefly he, who, in the moment of paralysis following the fire, maintained a calm mind and by his ready wit and indefatigable industry succeeded within a few days in bringing order out of chaos and in setting afloat those measures, legislative and practical, which were necessary for Baltimore's resurrection from the ruins. In his hands, more than in those of any other man, were the threads to innumerable designs, which it will not be easy for anyone to take up understandingly without much sacrifice of valuable time and consequent loss to the city. The greatest work of his life was left uncompleted, and, perhaps, at this time it would be more than charitable to suggest that Mayor McLane's rash act was in some manner due to the extraordinary strain which had resulted from the burdens resting upon his young shoulders.

Memorial Day.

While it is not possible to have everybody observe Memorial day in the spirit in which it was instituted, there are many thousands of grateful citizens who do. Despite stringent laws there are some persons who do not observe Sunday in the manner intended, or that is proper. Yesterday probably called out more people to memorial exercises than any previous Memorial day, though other crowds sought only sport, or fancied enjoyment. Locally the weather was unfavorable, but the program was carried out and the honored dead faithfully remembered.

At Gettysburg, President Roosevelt delivered the principal oration and Gov. Pennypacker made a feeling address. Soldiers of two wars. Both referred to the gallant soldier, lying cold in death at his Beaver home, in terms of profound respect. President Roosevelt drew a lesson that may well be taken to heart. On the battlefield where the courage of men was tested to the extreme and where courage was shown that no man could doubt, he declared that just as much courage is needed in peaceful life as in war to have justice done always and the right maintained. As wars are won not in one, but a succession of battles, so the right triumph by persistent effort and it is the duty of every citizen to return to the charge as often as may be required to win for morality and right.

This nation is a peaceful nation. It honors its military heroes more because they have risen from the paths of peace to defend and preserve their country. In such a nation the voice of the chief appealing to patriots to keep up the continuous fight for virtue, liberty and independence should not and will not fall upon deaf ears. As we honor the men who fell in battle and those who wore the uniform, so we will strive to keep and perfect that for which they fought and bled.

The Washington correspondent of the Post says Judge Parker's friends are worried because "the indorsements and quasi instructions that are being received by him seem to come because there is no one else who really wants to tackle Roosevelt." Certainly an honest confession of weakness.

The Pennsylvania railroad is testing a French made locomotive between Philadelphia and Atlantic City. Could get more speed out of a Russian make, if far eastern events are a criterion.

The weather man may be all right,
But this our patience strains,
Why is it with two ball games on
He always pulls off rains?

We are not sure about Maryland and Georgia, but early season reports from Atlantic City indicate that there is one crop of peaches that will not be a failure.

This is the last day of the season that masquerading under the name of spring has brought disgrace upon the traditions of that season of flowers.

"We have got 'em on the run,"
The Russian general wired—
And added, "They are after us,
Their actions make us tired."

Perhaps if the good dominies would be a little more careful about marrying people they wouldn't have so much divorce evil to complain of.

"Six Saved Off Hell Gate" is a headline in a New York paper. A glance at the item showed that it was not a religious revival. The lid is still on.

In the words of the late lamented Bill Nye, someone ought to "puncture the think tank of Judge Parker and let some of his thoughts run out."

Intercepted letters tell of two more Russian destroyers having been sunk by mines. These destroyers seem to be self-acting.

A New York church has a pastor the members consider worth $100,000. They did not find out his worth until Chicago bid for him.

The remarkable loquacity of Grover Cleveland can only be accounted for on the ground that the fishing season has not opened yet.

Mr. Bryan might aid the Democratic harmony schemes at St. Louis by taking another trip to Europe to last over July 6.

The Reed Smoot investigation will next meet in Utah. That is certainly carrying the war into the enemy's country.

The British have routed the Thibetans with heavy loss. The trail of civilization was ever stained with blood.

Judge Parker has reasons for dejection these days, since Mr. Cleveland has again declared for him.

What we like about the Japanese is their utter disregard for the impossible. They do it every day.

Mr. Hearst shows a decided inclination to settle with the bank and quit the game.

Memorial day was intended as a holy day. It has developed into a mere holiday.

Mr. Cortelyou is having troubles of his own and the campaign hasn't begun yet.

The "thin line of blue" did van guard duty yesterday.

And they call yesterday's fiasco a baseball game!

Cruising With Tubs.

"The trouble with many young men," said the old salt, "is that they want to load to the taff rails and run 24 knots with a 20-knot equipment. They have no adequate conception of their steaming radius and by the time they reach the philosophic age with the discovery that less draught and speed are better adapted to the craft they find their machinery in bad condition."

Talked of in Gotham

By GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 30.—Passing along on a ferryboat on the North river today one could see what devastation had been worked along the Hoboken waterfront by yesterday's fire. It was not so heartrending as the scene during and after the burning of the steamship piers and Atlantic piers four years ago, but in many respects the aspect of the blackened piers and gaunt skeletons of derricks and high warehouses is suggestive of the old catastrophe. The wonder is, to the ordinary observer, that so much destruction could be wrought in a short time, and that the fire itself would be gone entirely by the next morning. Hardly any living thing could be discerned about the ruins today. An occasional watchman strolled about the ashes and rubbish, but that was all. The fact of its being a holiday explained this to some extent, although if the fire had shown itself anywhere even in a thin spiral of smoke or a solitary spark, there would have been men enough to put out the threatened outbreak in a few moments.

The change in the skyline is as marked as it was when the North German Lloyd piers went up in explosions of flame and smoke in 1900. It is as if a giant broom had swept everything into the river except heaps of black dust such as might have been overlooked by a careless sweeper. With the exception of the Delaware Lackawanna & Western railroad station there is hardly anything to obscure the view from the Hudson of the city of Hoboken nestling among its hills just beyond the waterfront. How the station and piers further north escaped seems wonderful, notwithstanding that the new piers and warehouses are of steel, and fireproof as much as they can be. People in Hoboken are congratulating themselves today that they still have homes. That they have good reason to be grateful to Providence for their escape is evident enough when one sees what dreadful work was done by that $1,000,000 riot of flame.

Neighbors Worth Having.

One evidence of the philosophic New Jersey temperament which came out in the course of the big fire yesterday was furnished by the chief of the Jersey City fire department, Conway, when Chief Croker of New York asked him why Jersey City, with her long stretch of valuable docks had never got some fire boats. The Jersey chief is reported to have explained to the New York chief "What's the use so long as we can get yours to help us out in an emergency?"

Holiday for City and Country.

Although the weather was not all that could be desired, Memorial day was celebrated here with more than usual spirit. The big military parade went through according to schedule, and was cheered by thousands of spectators who did not care whether it was cloudy or not, so long as the procession was there. The same determination to get all the pleasure possible out of the holiday was evinced by the crowds that went out of town, to the seashore resorts and elsewhere, for a breath of the country air that they do not often get. The railroads and trolley lines were thronged both ways, for there were almost as many suburbanites coming into New York as there were city-worn New Yorkers going out of it. The main idea was change. Country folk from Jersey get as much delight out of a day in the city as sweatshop workers do from a rural jaunt. Both classes were happy today.

Diamond Fish Story Comes Early.

The fish with a valuable diamond in its works has been caught. There was some fear that he might not come into view this summer, but he has been speared in the Hackensack river, and sure enough when he was opened there was the $100 diamond ring lost five years ago by a Jersey City girl who dropped it into the water accidentally in the usual way. The fish that swallowed it was an eel. The girl has her ring tonight, and everyone is happy but the eel.

Tipperary Man Wears the Wig.

In one of the swell apartment hotels just off Broadway, in the neighborhood of Hearld square, there is a tall flunky in the lobby who wears a powdered wig. He is from London. Yesterday the manager decided that the winter wig was too heavy to be worn in June, and he ordered the footman to put on a thinner one, which he provided. It happens that there is a Tipperary man, whose business it is to guard the front door, who also wears a wig. He got into a row with "Jeems" over the selection from the two light wigs given to them from the management, and there was a battle in the lobby that caused a riot alarm to be sent into the Tenderloin station.

A policeman was sent to see what could be done. He happened to be a Mayo countryman, and it is historical that Tipperary and Mayo never could agree. There would, perhaps, have been another fight when he got to the hotel if the manager had not settled the matter in his own way by batting the heads of the two combatants together. Tipperary is wearing the wig in dispute tonight.

Songless Summer Promised.

Publishers along "Tin Pan alley" complain that there are few real song hits for the summer. One or two of them assert that they have compositions which will gain almost as much vogue as "Bedelia" and "Hiawatha," but the majority have not the spirit to assume a joyousness they do not feel. Reams of new song manuscripts are turned out weekly, but few of them catch on. "Tin Pan alley," it may be explained, is the block in Twenty-eighth street between Broadway and Sixth avenue. There are some scores of music publishers in the houses on both sides of the street and the tinkling of piano has given the place its nickname.

Freight Is on the Move.

Freight was moved to some extent today, holiday though it was, and in spite of the strike. The union freight handlers held meetings in a desultory fashion, but the Fall River line had enough men to look after its work, and most other concerns were taking a holiday. It is predicted that there will be hot times along West street tomorrow, however.

A Preacher in Demand.

Strong efforts are making by the congregation of the West End Presbyterian church to persuade their pastor, the Rev. Dr. John Balcom Shaw, who has had a call to the Second Presbyterian church, Chicago, not to accept the new charge. Dr. Shaw's salary here is $6,000 a year. The congregation will make a substantial increase in the salary if he will consent to remain. He is one of the most distinguished ministers in New York, and a many Pittsburghers know, has long been a leading light in the Presbyterian church at large. He preached in the Chicago church on Sunday, and his congregation here are in anxious communication with him by telegraph.

Seasonable Discussion.

One of the amiable professors of Chicago university announces that hell is not a fact, merely a condition. But when the condition is sizzling, what's the odds about the fact?—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

The Quiet Observer

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Hail, haunted acres of encamping dead,
Whose hills, reset with guns in battle line,
Today repeat and echo the divine
Appeal of war! Here gattant Sickles sped
His living thunderbolts, and Hancock bled,
Calm Meade arrayed, and fortune rose and fell;
Here Devil's Den was war's distincter hell,
And angry guns debated o'er the dead
With mouths aflame with shot and whistling shell!
Glory has decked, with bronze and marble pose,
Her battle-chiefs, in honor fixed alone—
But o'er this waste of graves, pale Sorrow throws
Her scarf of tears, to mark each little stone:
"All hail, O, sacred circles of 'Unknown'!"
—Aloysius Coll.

The true soldier does not sing the praises of war, nor does he love the grim monster, nor does he fear it.

War is too terrible and awful to merit praise, nor is it worthy of commendation save when life and liberty and honor are at stake.

It is to the credit of our country that it has never waged a war of conquest, and has never refused the gage of battle when the oppressor threw it down.

So be it ever.

While our cause is just, and our mission is humane, we may confidently count on being victorious.

This was beautifully and forcefully set forth by that grand, good woman, Julia Ward Howe, in a hymn written during the early part of the war.

Following are selections which seem particularly well suited to this occasion:

* * * * *

OUR BATTLE HYMN.

Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord;
He is trampling out the vintage where the grapes of wrath are stored;
He has loosed the fateful lightning of his terrible swift sword.
His truth is marching on.

I have seen Him in the watch fires of a hundred circling camps;
They have builded Him an altar in the evening dews and damps;
I can read His righteous sentence by the dim and flaring lamps.
His day is marching on.

I have read a fiery gospel, writ in burnished rows of steel;
"As ye deal with My contemners, so with you My grace shall deal."
Let the hero born of woman, crush the serpent with his heel,
Since God is marching on.

He has sounded forth the trumpet that shall never call retreat;
He is sifting out the hearts of men before His judgment seat;
O, be swift, my soul, to answer Him! be jubilant, my feet!
Our God is marching on.

In the beauty of the lilies Christ was born across the sea;
With a glory in His bosom that transfigures you and me;
As He died to make men holy, let us die to make men free,
While God is marching on.
—Julia Ward Howe.

DIRGE FOR TWO VETERANS.

The last sunbeam
Lightly falls from the finish'd Sabbath
On the pavement here, and there beyond it is looking Down a new-made double grave.

Lo, the moon ascending,
Up from the east the silvery round moon,
Beautiful over the housetops, ghastly, phantom moon,
Immense and silent moon.

I see a sad procession,
And I hear the sound of coming full-key'd bugles,
All the channels of the city streets they're flooding,
As with voices and with tears.

I hear the great drums pounding,
And the small drums steady whirring,
And every blow of the great convulsive drums
Strikes me through and through.

For the son is brought with the father
(In the foremost ranks of the fierce assault they fell,
Two veterans, son and father, dropt together,
And the double grave awaits them).

Now nearer blow the bugles,
And the drums strike more convulsive,
And the daylight o'er the pavement quite has faded,
And the strong dead march enwraps me.

In the eastern sky up-buoying,
The sorrowful vast phantom moves illumin'd
('Tis some mother's large, transparent face,
In heaven brighter growing).
O strong dead march, you please me!
O moon, intense with your silvery face, you soothe me!
O my soldiers twain! O my veterans passing to burial!
What I have I also give you.

The moon gives you light,
And the bugles and the drums give you music,
And my heart, O my soldiers, my veterans,
My heart gives you love.
—Walt Whitman.

THE EVE BEFORE BATTLE.

"Sing us a song," a soldier said,
As by the camp-fire lying;
He watched the smoke-wreaths slowly curl
And the golden sunbeams dying.
"Come, boys, a song, let us be gay,
There's time enough for sorrow;
We lead the charge at early dawn,
And may not sing tomorrow."

Then out upon the evening air
There came sweet music ringing,
In silvery cadence loud and clear
And the veteran troops were singing;
They sang the song of Home, Sweet Home,
And memory's faithful fingers
Turned back time's page to long ago,
Where recollection lingers.

They sang of home by the Rapidan,
When rifle-pits were yawning,
But shot and shell were all forgot
As well as battle's morning.
That song recalled familiar scenes
Brought back each gentle feeling;
Down cheeks that battle ne'er could blanch
Teardrops were slowly stealing.

They saw again their own loved homes;
Received their mother's blessing.
Warm kisses thrilled upon their lips
Dear ones were them caressing.
Deem them not weak—they "led the charge"
Amid the cannon's rattle;
Yet tears bedewed each manly cheek
The eve before the battle.

MODERN DECORATION DAY.

Now comes the day we set apart
To mourn at Valor's grave;
To teach the rising patriots
The story of the brave.

So beat the drum for U. S. Jones—
I'm pretty sure 'twas he—
Who signed some sort of thing beneath
The famous apple tree.

Give praise to brave old Whatshisname,
That hero of the free.
Who marched—I can't recall just why—
From Georgia to the sea.

To General P. Thingumbob
Our meed of tribute pay;
He rode a horse to Winchester
From somewhere else one day.

Three cheers for them and all the rest
Who left a deathless name!
My duty's done. Hooray! I'm off
To see the baseball game. —Life.

Carrying the Joke Too Far.

Undoubtedly the Hearst candidacy is a joke, but to a large number of Democrats in different parts of the country it is the best paying joke handed out in a long time.—Philadelphia Press.

The Blue and the Gray

THE STROLLER.

The youth carried two bouquets of sweet-scented flowers, one of roses and another of hyacinths. He sat gazing out of the window of the coach as the train flew along its journey southward, his eyes fixed on the landscape scene that swept by in endless panorama. Behind the gnarled branches of isolated oak trees the sun sank in crimson glory, bathing the bluegrass meadows in the golden afterglow.

It was a romantic scene to his fellow passengers who sat in the car and admired the sweet idyllic beauty of the May evening in Kentucky. The train had mounted the sylvan ridges of the Eagle hills and dashed on across the undulating plateau, where the wayfarer first begins to realize his presence in far-famed Bourbonland. Far away on the summit of a parallel ridge stretched the snow-white fences which marked the old national pike and beside this ancient road, at intervals of half a mile, stood hospitable plantation mansions with their brick gables and columned porticoes concealed behind great orchards and groves of cedars and larches. Here was a field filled with broad-leafed tobacco, and there a wide expanse of pasture land, where thoroughbreds were grazing—thoroughbreds that next year may become world-famed in the derby or on the trotting track.

But he who carried the roses and the hyacinths seemed oblivious to rural beauty in the surroundings. Often before he had admired the pastoral loveliness of Central Kentucky and in an environment far more inviting than on this fading afternoon in May. For half an hour the train had gone whirling on, sweeping over one of the low rolling ridges and down into a shallow valley where an inland city as old as the civilization west of the Alleghenies reposes on the low lying hills. On the left of the railroad, surrounded by a hedge of pines, the white shafts of marble mark a cemetery where Kentucky's heroes rest.

It was on the eve of Memorial day that the passenger with the two bouquets of flowers alighted from the train and in the approaching twilight made his way to the quiet burial ground. It was quiet now, but 40 years ago these wooded hills resounded with the clash of arms when the armies of the north and south met to conquer or to die—when father fought against son and brothers were arrayed against one another—when the fate of the Union depended on yon waving battle-line, and when patriots for the north and martyrs for the south were gathered from the blood-sodden field and buried here in the shadow of arboreal monuments.

The stranger entered at the old stone-arched gateway where two inspired lines had been dedicated to that sacred acre, and as he walked along under the trees he repeated:

"On fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead."

There under a canopy of trees he picked his way through the burial plots to a tall monument conspicuous by the figure of an artilleryman in the uniform of a Union soldier molded from ancient bronze. Around the base of the monument, like the serried platoons of soldiery, extended rows of simple headstones marking the graves of boys in blue who had given up their lives on southern battlefields. Beside one of these he stopped and placed the precious bouquet of hyacinths. It was his grandfather's grave and years ago his grandmother had told him that when his grandsire had gone off to war it was a small sprig of his favorite bloom that she had pinned upon his blouse when he had said farewell and marched away—never to return.

Farther on there stood another monument—a broken staff from which hung in mournful folds the flag which had gone down in everlasting defeat. Around this monument like serried platoons of soldiery extended, also rows of simple headstones marking the graves of those who wore the gray and gave up their lives on those same southern battlefields. In the shadow of the monument and near the lines of these simple headstones he stopped. A little silk flag bearing the stars and bars of the lost cause waved over the silent mound and beside it he placed the bouquet of roses—it was the grave of his sweetheart, lying in nature's sleep beside her soldier father.

Just a year ago they had gone together to his grandfather's grave and there had placed the hyacinths which her dainty fingers had plucked fresh from the southern garden. It had been an evening just like this, but the lingering twilight which had added to the radiance of her cheeks now seemed but to rekindle her beauty in his memory. When she had gone there a year ago she carried the silken banner—sad memento of the lost cause which she had loved and which she had sought to commemorate. Tattered and faded it guided him now to her mortal resting place.

And yet people ask why an atmosphere of romance still abides in Kentucky. Let them visit that country, when, on May 30, the survivors of the Union army pay their tribute to their dead, and on two days later, when June skies look down on the thinning ranks of the Confederate veterans as they march to the same burial grounds to decorate the graves of the men who gave up their lives for the lost cause. Let them witness the actual reunion of the blue and gray, and of the hands as well as the hearts of the south, and then they will be prompt to declare that Kentucky's romance will endure while the memory of love and heroic deeds shall continue a sacred heritage.

How to Rule a Husband.

When the writer was about to marry, the wife of a well known judge gave her this advice:

"My dear, a woman needs the wisdom of Solomon, the patience of Job and the meekness of a dove to get along with the best man that ever lived. I have my third husband, all good men, but all cranky at times. When they are cranky, keep still; when they fret, hold your tongue, and always remember that it takes two to make a quarrel."

In writing the dear old lady after some years of experience at the headquarters of an army where it was surrounded by some 30,000 men, I took occasion to say:

"The more I see of men the better I like them; and as to quarreling, you are quite right. I should like to add that your admirable advice might perhaps be supplemented by adding: 'Exercise tact, and spell it large.' Tact will win nine times out of ten where open hostility and aggressiveness fails."

The response was:

"You are right; we are improving with each generation."—Kate Tannatt Woods, in National Magazine.

The Death Roll

John Loor Locke.

John Loor Locke, former prosecuting attorney of Guernsey county, O., died of pneumonia at the family residence at Cambridge, O., yesterday morning. He was well known in this city and was one of the most prominent attorneys in Ohio. Mr. Locke was the son of the Rev. William H. Locke and Margaret Loor Locke. He was born in Braddock, September 17, 1830, while his father was pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church at that place. He attended the Fourth ward, now the North school, and later he was a student at Beaver college. When his father was transferred to the East Ohio conference he attended Mount Union college. For several years Mr. Locke was connected with the Youngstown News, and when his father assumed the pastorate of the First church at Cambridge he made that place his permanent home. He studied law with Tayler & Anderson and when Col. Taylor was elected to congress he went to Washington with him as private secretary. After being admitted to the bar Mr. Locke formed a partnership with Col. Anderson, which continued until Mr. Anderson was appointed minister to Bolivia by President McKinley. He served as president of the Ohio State League of Republican clubs and for three successive terms as prosecuting attorney of Guernsey county. After leaving that office he formed a law partnership under the firm name of Locke & Turnbaugh. He was a member and trustee of the First Methodist Episcopal church of Cambridge and a prominent Mason. Mr. Locke married Miss Sophronia White, daughter of the late Judge J. W. F. White of Pittsburgh, who with two sons, and his parents, survive. He is also survived by a brother, the Rev. Charles Edward Locke, pastor of the Hanson Place Methodist Episcopal church, Brooklyn, and three sisters, Miss Katherine of Youngstown; Mrs. Hallett M. Coates of Alliance, and Mrs. Thomas B. Anderson of Chester, W. Va. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock an the interment will be in Cambridge cemetery. The services will be in charge of the ministers of the different churches, as the pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church is not yet home from the general conference which met in California.

Phineas Barnes.

Phineas Barnes, aged 62, died at the Protestant Home for Incurables, Eighteenth ward, Sunday afternoon, after an illness of several years. He was a pioneer in the modern manufacture of steel and was associated with many of the great masters in this industry. Mr. Barnes was born in Portland, Me., and was graduated from the Troy Polytechnic institute in 1867. He was a business associate and lifelong friend of the late Alexander L. Holley, having been closely connected with him in several large undertakings, notably in the construction of the steel works of the Joliet Iron and Steel Company of Joliet, Ill. He was also connected with the erection of the original Bessemer plant and rail mill at the Edgar Thomson steel works, Braddock. His last work was to design and erect the steel works of the Jones & Laughlins Steel Company, Limited, where he was manager until 1892, when failing health forced him to retire. Mr. Barnes, in 1872, married Fannie Ellsworth Wood of Joliet, Ill. She died in 1891. Two daughters, Gladys Wolcott Barnes and Mrs. William R. Watson of Sacramento, Cal., and one son, Harold B. Barnes, who is connected with the Electric Launch Company of the St. Louis exposition, survive. The funeral services will be held in Calvary Protestant Episcopal church, East End, of which Mr. Barnes was a member, at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Interment will be made in Allegheny cemetery.

The Rev. A. J. Swain.

The Rev. A. J. Swain of Jacksonville, Greene county, one of the most prominent men of the Cumberland Presbyterian church of Western Pennsylvania, is dead, aged 59 years. He was superannuated and the oldest member of the Pennsylvania synod of the church. He had been in active service within the bounds of the Pennsylvania synod since his first days in the ministry. During his long service for the church he had been pastor of the following congregations: Brownsville, Pa.; Bethel, Pa.; Concord, Pa.; Rocklick, Pa.; Fairview, Pa.; Jacksonville, Pa., and Windy Gap, Pa. He had also served as supply in many churches. His last work was at the Windy Gap church. Many years ago he was united in marriage with Margaret Winder, whose death occurred 20 years ago. A few years later he was married to Mrs. Mary Ellen Ackley, who survives. One son, W. C. Swain, of Washington, also survives.

Mrs. Mary Love.

Mrs. Mary Love, widow of James Love, of Braddock, died yesterday at the home of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Martin Mendelhall, No. 28 Miller street, Rankin, where she had been visiting. Mrs. Love was one of the oldest inmates of the Ladies of the Grand Army Republic Home at Hawkins. She was born in Burgettstown, Pa., and spent the greater part of her life there. Her husband served in the civil war as a captain of cavalry in the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment. Mrs. Love was a lifelong member of the Methodist Episcopal church. She is survived by her daughter-in-law, a son, Robert Love, a minister of Erie county, and a brother, also living in Erie.

Neill McCauley.

Neill McCauley, aged 32, a member of an old Braddock family, died yesterday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Patrick McCauley, No. 1927 Wayne avenue, Swissvale. He was born in Johnstown and moved to Braddock with his parents about 29 years ago. He was a member of the firm McCauley & Sons, plumbers of Braddock. He was a member of St. Brendan's Catholic church, Braddock, and is survived by his mother, two brothers and four sisters: Mrs. James Mulligan of Swissvale; Mrs. Mary Kelly of Homestead; the Misses Stella and Beatrice and Andrew and Michael, at home.

PRESIDENT AND GOVERNOR HONOR THE MARTYRS OF GETTYSBURG

Both Speak at Memorial Services and Praise Senator Quay in Addresses.

RETURN TO WASHINGTON

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

GETTYSBURG, PA., May 30.—On historic Cemetery hill, overlooking ground hallowed by the blood of half a hundred thousand brave and in the presence of a concourse of thousands who had assembled to pay tribute to the memory of the nation's dead, President Roosevelt today delivered a notable address. On nearly the same spot, on November 19, 1863, President Lincoln delivered the immortal address enunciating principles which have rung around the world for more than a third of a century.

President Roosevelt was escorted to the cemetery on the battlefield by a body of several hundred veterans of the civil war. The president and his special escort were preceded by several organizations, including a squadron of United States cavalry, the Third United States artillery and the Marine band of Washington, which had been ordered here for the occasion. Mrs. Roosevelt and other members of the president's party followed in carriages. The rear of the procession consisted of civic organizations and citizens in carriages. Gov. Pennypacker presided at the ceremonies, which were held in the rostrum in the cemetery. After the memorial day services of the Grand Army of the Republic had been concluded, and the pupils of the public schools had strewn flowers over the graves of the thousands of dead, during which ceremony the Marine band played a solemn dirge, the Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the United States senate, pronounced the invocation. The president was then introduced by Gov. Pennypacker, who spoke as follows:

Speech of the Governor.

The battle of Gettysburg, momentous in its exhibition of military force and skill, tremendous in its destruction of human life, had consequences which in their effect upon the race are limitless. As the seeds of the cockle are sown with the wheat, so in the Constitution adopted by the fathers in 1787 lay the germs of an inevitable struggle. Two antagonistic forces grew in vigor and strength side by side, in one household, and, like Ormuzd and Ahriman, they must strive for the mastery. Upon this field its struggle came to a determination, and the issue between them was here decided with cannon and musket. The rebellion was undertaken by the followers of the doctrines of Calhoun and Davis with the purpose to rend the nation asunder and break it into fragments. Alas for the futility of the expectations of men. The Lord, who holds the peoples in the hollow of His hand, and who since the dawn of history has taken them up by turns in the search for one fit for broad dominion, did not forsake us. The extraordinary powers exercised for the maintenance of the national life in that dire time of war became fixed as the principles of the national government. The flame of strife but tested the virtue of the metal. The blows intended to disever only welded the sovereignties together more firmly, for future wider effort. The nation as it exists today arose when Pickett failed to drive the Philadelphia brigade from the stone wall on Cemetery hill. A seer sitting on that dread day upon the crests of Big Round Top could have figured in the clouds of smoke rolling over the Devil's Den and the Bloody Angle the scenes soon to occur in Manila bay, at Santiago and San Juan hill, the beaming of a new light at Hawaii and in the far Philippines the junction of the two mighty oceans and the near disappearance of English control of the commerce of the world.

Personality Lost in Office.

The presidential office is so great a station among men that those who fill it are not to be regarded as personalities. Their individuality is lost in its immensity. They become the manifestations of certain impulses and stages of development of the national life. Jackson represented its rough, uncouth and undisciplined strength; Lincoln loomed up as the savior of the Americans, bearing the burden of woe and suffering which fate laid upon his broad shoulders in its time of stress and trial. Blessed be his memory forevermore. No people can look forward to the fulfilment of such a destiny as events seem to outline for us save one alert and eager with the enthusiasm and vigor of youth.

No other president has so stood for that which, after all, typifies our life—the sweep of the winds over broad prairies, the snow-capped mountains and the mighty rivers, the Sequoia trees, the exuberance of youth conscious of red blood, energy and power painting our bow of promise—as does Theodore Roosevelt. He has hunted in our woods, he has enriched our literature, he has ridden in the face of the enemy, he has maintained our ideals. Upon this day devoted to the memories of the heroic dead—the Pennsylvania, a sad Decoration day—the achievements of the prolific past and the promise of the teeming future confront each other. To-day first time a president of Roosevelt treds the soil made immortal by the sword of George Gordon Meade and hallowed by the prose-dirge of Abraham Lincoln.

White President Roosevelt spoke 10,000 people stood in a hard rain until he finished. He said, in part:

Points of President's Address.

Gov. Pennypacker alluded to the fact that today Pennsylvania mourns its senior senator. The regiment which Senator Quay was instrumental in raising took part in this battle of Gettysburg—the battle in which Gov. Pennypacker shared. Senator Quay was not with it. He had gone with another regiment, and it is appropriate at this time to recall the fact that, when the term of service of that regiment expired, just before Fredericksburg, Senator Quay declined to accept the discharge and continued as a volunteer with the army that fought at Fredericksburg and won the medal of honor on that bloody day.

As long as this republic endures or its history is known, so long shall the memory of the battle of Gettysburg likewise endure and be known; and as long as the English tongue is understood, so long shall Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg speech thrill the hearts of mankind.

The civil war was a great war for righteousness; a war waged for the noblest ideals. The soldiers who won at Gettysburg, the soldiers who fought to a finish the civil war, fought for four years in order that our institutions, those who came after them, their children and their children's children, might enjoy a lasting peace. They took arms, not to destroy, but to save liberty; not to overthrow, but to establish supremacy of the law. In his recent admirable little volume on freedom and responsibility in democratic government, President Eliot, of Harvard, has pointed out that the freedom which is worth anything is the freedom which means self-government and not anarchy. It was essentially the view taken by Abraham Lincoln.

Not Won by One Battle.

The men who fought in the civil war learned, as all the generation of the civil war learned, that rare indeed is the chance to do anything worth doing by one sudden and violent effort. The men who believed that the civil war would be ended in 90 days, the men who cried loudest "On to Richmond," if they had the right stuff in them speedily learned their error; and the great actualities were by those who settled themselves steadfastly down to fight for three years, or for as much longer as the war might last, and who gradually grew to understand that the triumph would come not by a single brilliant victory, but by a hundred painful and tedious campaigns.

The final victory was due to the deeds of all who played their parts well and manfully, in the scores of battles, in the countless skirmishes, in march, in camp or in reserve, as commissioned officers, or in the ranks—wherever and whenever duty called them. Just so it must be for us in civil life. We can make and keep this country worthy of the men who gave their lives to save it, only on condition that the average man among us on the whole does his duty bravely, loyally and with common sense in whatever position life allots to him.

Courage the Cardinal Virtue.

Exactly as in time of war, courage is the cardinal virtue of the soldier, so in time of peace honesty, using the word in its deepest and broadest significance, is the essential basic virtue, without which all else avails nothing.

All are as one now, the sons of those who wore the blue and the sons of those who wore the gray, and all can unite in paying respect to the memory of those who fell, each of them giving his life for his duty as he saw it; and all should be at one in learning from the death of these men how best usefully while the times call for the performance of the countless necessary duties of everyday life, and how to hold ourselves ready to die nobly should the nation ever again demand of her sons the ultimate proof of loyalty.

The exercises were concluded by benediction by the Rev. Dr. Clutz.

President Speaks at Pen Mar.

The president's train reached Pen Mar about 2 o'clock this morning and was sidetracked there until 7:30. A crowd of several hundred people had gathered. Before the train left for Gettysburg the president appeared on the rear platform and spoke as follows:

It is a great pleasure to greet you this morning, and I am so glad that we have such beautiful weather on the occasion of my visiting this great historic battlefield of the war, on Decoration day. I will not attempt to say now as I am to speak later in the day. I shall merely repeat how glad I am to see all of you, especially those who wear the button that shows that you have a right greater than any of the rest of us to be here and to rejoice in all that this Memorial day means.

The train was stopped in Gettysburg at Reynolds avenue, the road which traversed the position of the confederate forces on the first day of the battle. There the president and party entered carriages and started on a drive over the battlefield.

Greeted by the Governor.

As President and Mrs. Roosevelt alighted from their car they were greeted by Gov. Pennypacker on behalf of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania and by a reception committee of Corp. Sickly, post No. 9, G. A. R., under whose auspices the ceremonies of the day were conducted. A section of a battery of the third artillery, U. S. A., fired a presidential salute of 21 guns.

The drive over the battlefield occupied three hours and a quarter, the entire 20 miles of the fine roads built by the national government being covered. Frequent stops were made to enable the president to study at close range some of the more important features of the historic field. Gens. Howard and Sickels succinctly described the battle, the president, Mrs. Roosevelt and the entire party listening attentively to the graphic word-pictures the two distinguished veterans drew of the situations as they arose during the battle, and then drew to the point where the exercises were held.

The party left for Washington at 4 p. m.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—President Roosevelt arrived here at 8:20 p. m. from Gettysburg.

STUBBORN FIRE ON THE SOUTH SIDE

spot and it burned the entire building to the ground.

Capt. James A. Henderson, president of the Keystone Commercial Company, and his son, Marshall Henderson, manager of the shipping department, when they arrived at the fire about 1 o'clock, found there was not a single line of hose playing upon the front part of the building, while from every window on the third floor great volumes of smoke were pouring.

Capt. Henderson was greatly incensed at the slowness of the firemen. "The fact that the fire has lasted so long is due to the failure to fight it from the front," he said.

Almost immediately afterward the flames burst simultaneously from the roof and the front windows and then began a real fight. One stream had been playing on the front for a few minutes. This was supplanted by a turret and by a hose carried up a ladder and as the flames drove out the windows they were driven back. A stream was applied also from the east side of the building and several from the west side.

The report was started that the water supply was insufficient, but this was denied by Chief William Bennett, who was in charge of the fire-fighters.

"Everything that could be done has been done," he said. "The men have been fighting the fire from the inside."

Through the efforts of Watchman Moore the connection with the ammonia supply by which the eggs and butter are kept cool was cut off, and what might have been a serious explosion was averted.

PROJECTILE CRASHES INTO A HOUSEHOLD

Apparently Bullet from a Rapid Fire Gun It Did Considerable Damage.

A large projectile measuring three inches in length and weighing nearly two pounds was fired into the home of Henry Flock, No. 5148 Carnegie avenue yesterday afternoon, damaging the house to the extent of about $50. The bullet had evidently been fired from a cannon, but from where and by whom is not known. No person in the neighborhood heard any loud noise which would necessarily be produced in firing the shot.

The Flock family were on the first floor of their home about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon when a crash was heard on the second floor. Mrs. Flock ran into the street and saw that two shutters had been torn from their fastenings and the front window and sash had been broken. The projectile had entered the front room from the window and had done considerable damage in the room before it struck a bed. An oak chair in the room was shattered into fragments, a portion of the carpet was torn into shreds and the bed, where the ball landed, was badly damaged.

Mr. Flock reported the matter to the police and Capt. Welsh and Lieut. Robinson conducted an investigation, but were unable to learn from what source the projectile came. It was at first believed that someone in the neighborhood had fired the shot, but as no one could be found who had heard the report this was discredited.

It is now thought that the shot was fired from some place across the Allegheny river.

The projectile, which is now in the hands of the police, is of lead, but has a steel core running through it. It is over three inches long and about two inches thick and is oblong with a sharpened head.

POWER OF THE PAY ROLL.

Arrayed Against T. A. Milby, Republican, in Favor of Henry Poke for Common Council.

A special election is to be held in the Thirty-second ward today for the purpose of filling the vacancy caused by the death of Common Councilman Reed. It promises to be a very lively election.

Henry Poke is the candidate of the Citizens party, having also been indorsed by the Democrats at a secret meeting. T. A. Milby is the Republican candidate. Milby has a hard fight before him. The entire power of the city administration is backing Poke, and what that means can easily be realized when one considers that 60 residents of the ward are on the city pay roll.

At the last regular election the administration betrayed the candidate of the Citizens' organization and worked for Reed, the Republican candidate, in order to punish the Citizens' candidate, Jacob Soffel for not taking orders; but this time Mayor Hays, controlling the Citizens' ward committee, managed to get a candidate of his own, Henry Poke, a former member of council.

Despite the odds against him, Milby will wage a good fight and has strong hopes of being elected.

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME

Are Never Without Pe-ru-na in the House for Catarrhal Diseases.

MR. AND MRS. J. O. ATKINSON, INDEPENDENCE, MO.

UNDER date of January 10, 1897, Dr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife had been suffering from a complication of diseases for the past 25 years.

"Her case had baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing.

"She also was passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life. In June, 1895, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Peruna and Manalin, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her. She firmly believes that she would have been dead only for these wonderful remedies.

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of 25 years' standing. At times I was almost past going. I commenced to use Peruna according to your instructions and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me.

"Your remedies do all that you claim for them, and even more. Catarrh cannot exist where Peruna is taken according to directions. Success to you and your remedies."

John O. Atkinson.

In a letter dated January 1, 1900, Mr. Atkinson says, after five years' experience with Peruna:

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Peruna. In my rounds as a traveling man I am a walking advertisement for Peruna and have induced many people during the past year to use Peruna with the most satisfactory results. I am still cured of catarrh."

John O. Atkinson,
Box 272, Independence, Mo.

When old age comes on, catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people.

This explains why Peruna has become so indispensable to old people. Peruna is their safeguard. Peruna is the only remedy yet devised that meets these cases exactly.

Such cases cannot be treated locally; nothing but an effective systemic remedy could cure them. This is exactly what Peruna is.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, president of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

greatest sale

—starts today—this store ever made in 35 years since the store was started.

It's a sale of choice, desirable goods we're advertising, and that's the kind the buying public appreciates—when as far underprice as you'll find them at this sale.

The choice goods and the large assortments will back up all that's stated here.

All who come will so find it—and more to their profit than they expect.

$300,000.00 worth of fine Wash Goods, Dress Goods and Silks.

That's a large amount in three lines alone—but it's a statement of facts.

Prices, styles and qualities that will furnish positive evidence.

B. & B.

100,000 yards—two lots of the best makers in the world.

Fine Striped Madras, all 32 inches wides—single and double width—genuine 25 and 35-cent goods at 12½c.

No sale the store ever made in 35 years approached this.

Goods are not only extra good and desirable, but styles and coloring are right.

5,000 yards genuine fine 25-cent White and Lavender Striped Madras, 32 inches wide, 10c.

Nothing ever seen like it for quality and styles at the prices—all White and Lavender stripes—but fine goods.

50 pieces Imported 50 and 75-cent White Embroidered Welt P. K.'s, 35c.

B. & B.

NEAT SILKS, 55c.

Choice Navy and White and Brown and White Fancies—all exceedingly small designs, just what's most wanted for Shirt Waist Suits.

The same Taffetas you've paid and possibly still expect to pay 75c for, so the 20 cents saved is a lot.

Genuine India Silks on Sale, 50c—all choice effects—Navy and White and Black and White—softer and lighter weight than Foulards, and just as wide, 24 inches.

At Half a Dollar a yard these fine, pretty, genuine Indias—woven in China—dyed and printed in France—are great and important merchandise.

Beautiful solid Navy Blue and Brown Chiffon Taffetas—soft rich, lustrous—newest ideas for full suits, $1.00.

All they'll need is for you to see them.

Want you to know about some genuine Imported Chinese hand-woven Shautung Pongees at 75c, $1.00 and $1.25, we had dyed in Lyons for you, so those who wear Black could have a quiet Summer gown with some individuality.

B. & B.

LINING DEPARTMENT

Will do its share to make the Sale a success.

Fifty pieces genuine Quarter Dollar Fast Black Moired Silk finish Percaline—15c a yard.

Twenty-five pieces 15-cent Percalines, White or Cream, 10c.

You can get all the best kinds of Linings here always, and most of the time they're underprice—the above, as you see, are away under.

Yama-Mai is the ideal inexpensive Silk Lining—good and strong and all the good shades—19 inches wide, 37 1-3c.

Much improved—every yard guaranteed.

Belfast Linen finish White Cotton Suiting, 33 inches wide, 12½c.

B. & B.

FOUND THREE OF TOWBOAT VICTIMS

Bodies of Two White Men and Negro Recovered—Coroner's Verdict Without Blame.

CONTRADICTORY TESTIMONY

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LOUISVILLE, May 30.—Three bodies from the wreck of the steamer Fred Will- have been recovered today, and it is believed that the wreck is breaking up and releasing the corpses pinned under timbers. In order to facilitate the recovery of others, a steamer has been dispatched down the river in the hope of finding other corpses, as two of those found today were floating.

About six miles below the wreck the body of an unknown white man, with a tattooed on his arm, was found by persons who were watching the stream. The corpse was turned over to the undertaker, and while he was conveying the remains into this city he was called on to pick up two more. One was a negro and the other a white man. All the bodies were brought to this place. The negro is believed to be a fireman. The two white men are supposed to be William Quinn, steward, of Pittsburgh, and Hugh Hoscook, also of Pittsburgh. The remains of the colored man may be those of Joseph Warren, fireman. The bodies are in charge by L. D. Bax, undertaker.

After hearing the testimony of many of the survivors of the wrecked boat, the jury returned a verdict in the case of Sherman Shibler of Pittsburgh, engineer, but did not fix the blame. Some of the survivors told interesting stories of their experiences, but knew little of the cause. Today's action by the coroner's jury was specifically an inquiry into the death of Shibler, but the inquiry has the scope of a general investigation. Forty-five witnesses have been examined.

Captain J. Dinwiddie of Pittsburgh, a pilot, was the first witness. He was awakened, but not asleep, when, hearing an explosion of a feed pipe, he sprang from his bunk to see the whole forward part of the boat blown away. He knew nothing of the condition of the boilers or machinery.

James Jones, a deckhand, was blown into the water, but did not know there had been an explosion. He knew nothing of the cause and could offer no explanation as to the cause of the accident.

Inspectors Dunn of Louisville, government inspector, said he had glanced over the boiler thrown on the bank, but had made no close inspection. He was not prepared to do so. He had no opinion as to the cause of the explosion, but might have been defective workmanship or carelessness.

J. E. Abraham, United States hull inspector, said he had not had time to make any investigation. In his opinion the explosion was due to no water in the boiler.

Chief Engineer C. L. Walker, who was in the engine room at the time of the explosion, could advance no theory as to the cause. He said he had examined the boilers and had three gauges of water five minutes before the explosion. A new plate had been put in the boiler recently, and he supposed it was in good condition.

John Miller of Pittsburgh, a deckhand, said the "doctor" had slipped twice on the boat's previous trip and was fixed by Engineer Walker and Henry Sykes, the boat's mate. This was contradictory to Engineer Walker's testimony. Walker was recalled and denied having had to repair the "doctor" at any time since his first trip, three months ago. He said the gun valve was the cause of the slipping of the "doctor" on the trip specified.

FOOTHOLD IN MOROCCO IS URGED ON GERMANY

Pan-German Congress Declares That Fatherland Has Been Humiliated.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BERLIN, May 30.—The annual pan-German congress at Luebeck today took the character of a sharp criticism of Emperor William and the system of personal government. Prof. Hasse, a former member of the reichstag, said the best elements of the people earnestly wished the emperor would choose advisers who had the courage to ask him to spend at least half the year at the capital, where they might daily confer personally with him without the intervention of courtiers, and who would have the courage to resign when their advice was disregarded.

A resolution adopted by the congress declares it is "imperatively necessary for the political and business houses of the empire to secure a foothold upon the Atlantic coast region of Morocco, and the congress feels it to be a humiliating disregard of Germany that France and Great Britain fixed the future of Morocco without consulting Germany, thus treating her like a power of third rank." The resolution further declares the congress would regard it as "irreparable sinning against the permanent interests of the German people if the imperial government should miss the opportunity presented at this moment for asserting Germany's claims upon Morocco and establishing a permanent foothold there."

GIRL NEARLY DROWNS IN A CHUTE-THE-CHUTE

NEW YORK, May 30.—(Special.)—After rushing down the steep incline of the chutes in Dreamland, Coney Island, two boats in which were eight persons, collided this afternoon. One of the boats was overturned in four feet of water. Grace Gillen, 10 years old, was nearly drowned before she was taken out by one of the men in the party.

Medical Specialists at Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 30.—The tenth annual meeting of the American Laryngological, Rhinological and Otological society opened today. Today's session was devoted to routine business and the reading of papers on technical subjects. Among the papers read was one by Ewing W. Day of Pittsburgh. A banquet was given at the Auditorium hotel tonight.

Killed Wife and Attempted Suicide.

CANAAN, CONN., May 30.—Sherman Deeman, aged 24 years, shot and killed his wife today and afterwards attempted to commit suicide by shooting, but will probably survive. Mrs. Deeman had left her husband because of his alleged abuse of her.

Miss Gannon, Sec'y Detroit Amateur Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness, and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. I had shooting pains, and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a red letter day to me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did."—MISS GUILA GANNON, 359 Jones St., Detroit, Mich., Secretary Amateur Art Association.—$5000 forfeit if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

When one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of the countless hundreds which we are continually publishing in the newspapers of this country, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all.

Prairie Grass Raffia and Reed Furniture

Readers of Cooper's story, "The Prairie," will remember how the old hunter used fire to save his party from the flames of a prairie conflagration. The tall, tough grass that grows on the wide-rolling prairies of the great Northwest is now used for adding to the comforts of civilization. The prettiest and most durable Wicker Rockers, Chairs and Settees of the present age are made of this wiry prairie grass. It is of soft dark green color, restful to the eye, and comes in a surprising variety of pieces. Ideal for summer furnishing.

REED FURNITURE is always popular, refined in appearance, moderate in price, comfortable in use. We've a great display ready for this week. The extra large rocker illustrated above is priced $3.50. It has full roll edge.

TODAY'S LEAGUE GMES.

St. Louis at Exposition Park.
Boston at Brooklyn.
New York at Philadelphia.

On a playing field that was ankle deep with mud and with torrents of rain beating down for the best part of the afternoon, the Pittsburgh and St. Louis teams went through what was termed a ball game, and the affair wound up with the score 13 to 0 in the visitors' favor. There was a holiday crowd of 6,000 people out to see the teams wallow in the mud and they had lots of fun, even if they did get little of real baseball.

The teams were scheduled to play two games but the heavy rain in the morning forced the calling off of the forenoon contest and it might have been just as well had the afternoon game been allowed to have gone by the board. It was not the fault of the local club owner that the game was not called off in the third inning, when the rain was coming down by the bucketful and the players and umpire looked like a lot of drowned rats. President Dreyfuss sent a messenger out on the field to call the game off and he would refund the people their money, but Umpire Emslie, who was presiding over the contest, refused to comply with the request.

The umpire stated that the rules were plain on the subject and as long as the occupants of the open seats held their position he could not call the game off. However, the umpire stretched things a little, as he had the power to call the game owing to the muddy condition of the playing field, which was unfit for use and so sloppy that it was dangerous for the players. The people in the open stands refused to move, and those stands looked much like a huge mushroom field with the hundreds of hoisted umbrellas. After the first heavy rain it grew so dark that it was almost impossible to see the ball, and the players begged the umpire to end their suffering, but he refused and the game went to the limit, and proved a Waterloo in more ways than one, for the home team.

So far as the work of the Pirates was concerned the game was a farce, pure and simple, but not so with the visitors, who played with all the vim and energy that they would on a dry field under a warm sun. This is shown by the fact that they went through the game with but one error charged to them, which was remarkable, considering the playing conditions. While the locals were fielding and wandering around in the mud the visitors, having attained a short lead in the early part of the contest asserted all their energies both in the field and at bat, and it was due to this that they scored a victory which they richly deserved.

The pitchers for the afternoon were Philippi for the Pirates and McFarland for the visitors. For four innings the game was as clever a display of baseball as could be put up, but when the rain started to come down in blinding sheets Phillippe let up in his pitching and merely lobbed the ball over the plate. The field was so wet that as soon as a ball touched the ground it became soaked and could not be handled and it was tossed to Roscoe Miller, who would wipe it off with a dry towel and another ball would be put in play. Phillippe's action so far as letting up was not followed by McFarland, who used both speed and curves until his team obtained such a commanding lead that he thought it safe to toss the ball in.

It was hardly an inspiring sight to watch the players floundering about in the mud and water and there were times when time had to be called to allow the players to wash the mud out of their eyes and mouth. Some of the players took a chance on sliding in to bases when the ground was covered with mud so as to be hardly recognizable, but this furnished fun and lots of it, for the spectators, even if it was hard on the players, and if some of the players are not laid up as a result of the scaling, it will be a wonder.

The game was fairly interesting until the sixth inning, when half a dozen runs were piled up by the visitors and after that the crowd was interested only in watching the players wallow in the mud. In the meantime the Cardinals kept plugging along, playing the game for all it was worth, and for which they were cheered now and then, but the general impression was the Pirates tried hard enough to make hits, but McFarland seemed to have great control of the wet ball, with the result that almost every effort of the Pirates resulted in an easy fly balls which were gathered in without trouble.

Five hits were all that Clarke's crew could muster and it was little wonder that the team was shut out. In the meantime the visitors fairly mauled the ball for nine hits that they received and they ran the bases with reckless ness. However, they were fairly entitled to all the runs they made, and had the Pirates taken up the spirit of a game there might have been a different result. The score:

MORNING GAME.

CINCINNATI, May 30.—The Cincinnatis batted their hits off Lundgren in the morning game and scored a comparatively easy victory. Harper was a puzzle for Chicago until the ninth, when three singles and Jones' home run gave them four runs. Chance's face was badly lacerated by being hit with a pitched ball in the first inning, but Chance continued to the game. Score, 5-4:

An Even Break at Brooklyn.

MORNING GAME.

NEW YORK, May 30.—After a long losing streak, the Brooklyn team won a game today, beating the Boston visitors 4 to 2. The home club won the contest in the opening inning, scoring all their four runs on doubles by Sheckard and Lumley, a base on balls, Pittinger's error and a wild pitch. Lumley's batting was the feature of the game. Score:

AFTERNOON GAME.

In the afternoon game Boston outplayed the home club from start to finish, and won 8 to 3. Brooklyn's runs were scored in the eighth and ninth innings, when Willis eased up. Willis was in excellent form for the first seven innings, and the home batters could do little with his curves. Reidy was batted hard and gave way to Garvin in the seventh inning. The score:

MORNING GAME.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—The morning contest between the New York and Philadelphia clubs bore little resemblance to a ball game. Errors and muffs were almost too numerous to mention. McGann was put out of the grounds by Umpire O'Day for using objectionable language. Attendance — 3,573. Score:

AFTERNOON GAME.

A batting rally in the eighth inning saved Philadelphia from defeat in the afternoon game. Through errors and timely hitting New York secured a lead, and it looked like a victory for the visitors; but Taylor weakened, and five singles gave the locals three runs and the game. SHADYSIDE BEATEN AT KITTANNING

Up-Country Preps. Take Five-Inning Game Played in Heavy Rain.

SHULTZ AND SHETTER PITCH

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

KITTANNING, PA., May 30.—In a game abounding with interest from start to finish, the Shadyside academy of Pittsburgh went down before the Kittanning academy this afternoon in the presence of 500 spectators who braved the horrible weather conditions. The game was played at the urgent request of the visitors during a continual downpour of rain, which at the end of a fifth inning was falling so steadily that the sides agreed to quit.

Shultz, the Shadyside pitcher, started in to pitch, but retired in the first inning after Kittanning had made one run. Up until the third inning the Pittsburghers did not see third base, and in that round they succeeded in getting a man across the rubber.

At the conclusion of the first part of the fifth inning the score stood 3 to 3. Coyede made a two-bagger to right center and stole home, Conn's home on Schuey's sacrifice. The score:

LAJOIE IS SUSPENDED.

The Big Player Guilty of Bad Conduct and Weakens His Team.

Cleveland, O., May 30.—A telegram was received tonight by President Kilfoyle of the Cleveland club from Ban Johnson, president of the American league, ordering the indefinite suspension of Capt. LaJoie, second baseman of the club, for throwing a quid of tobacco at Umpire Dwyer in yesterday's game at Chicago, the outcome of a dispute over a decision between LaJoie and Dwyer.

LaJoie's suspension puts the Cleveland team in bad shape, Turner, shortstop, Rossman, pitcher, and Lush, fielder, are out of the game because of illness or injury, and Flick, Hickman, Bemis and Bernhard are only half well.

CLOSE FINISHES MADE IN THE ROWING RACES

Two Eights Raced a Dead Heat for Second Place in Stewards Cup Event.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—The second annual regatta of the American Rowing association over the Henley course, on the Schuylkill river, today furnished some good sport. Notwithstanding the choppy water and strong wind, good time was made. Several of the races were closely contested. The feature of today was the six-oared shell race for the stewards cup. The Vespers of this city carried off the prize, after a hot race. The University of Pennsylvania second varsity crew and the Union Boat club of Boston rowed a dead heat for second place.

There were only four out-of-town entries in the 11 events, and not one of them landed a first place. The course was 1 5-16 miles straightaway. The stewards of the association have decided to hold next year's regatta here, but have not fixed the date. Summaries:

First singles, Farrago cup—Won by Jesse Williamson, second, University Boat club, Philadelphia; F. C. Smith, Vesper Boat club, Philadelphia, second; W. P. Henderson, Union Boat club, Boston, third. Time, 10:03.

First pair-oared shells—Won by F. B. Coll and J. J. Ryan, Philadelphia Boat club; A. G. Henry and F. W. Sinkler, University Boat club, Philadelphia, second. Time, 9:46. Only two starters.

Eight-oared shell race for school crews—Won by Central High school, Philadelphia; Cascadella school, Ithaca, N. Y., second. Time, 7:56. Only two starters.

Second four-oared shells—Won by Bachelor Boat club, Philadelphia; Philadelphia Boat club, second. Time, 8:22. Only two starters.

First double sculls, Schuylkill cup—Won by S. W. Emorys and John O. Pratt, University Boat club; H. Monaghan and A. McCloskey, Pennsylvania Boat club, Philadelphia, second. E. F. Rivinus and H. Beylerd, Philadelphia Boat club, third. Time, 8:37.

Second four-oared gigs—Won by Crescent Boat club, Philadelphia; West Philadelphia Boat club, second; Malta Boat club, Philadelphia, third. Time, 8:26.

Second eight-oared shells, New England cup—Won by University of Pennsylvania freshmen; Pennsylvania Boat club, second. Time, 7:29. Only two starters.

First eight-oared shells, Stewards cup—Won by Vesper Boat club, Philadelphia; dead heat for second place between University of Pennsylvania, second varsity, and Union Boat club of Boston. Time, 7:05.

Second singles—Won by R. Lockwood, Vesper Boat club; G. A. Herman, Potomac Boat club, Washington, D. C., second. Time 9:35. Only two starters.

First four-oared shells, Puritan cup—Won by Philadelphia Boat club; University of Pennsylvania, second; West Philadelphia Boat club, third. Time, 7:34.

First centipedex—Won by University Boat club; Philadelphia Boat club, second. Time, 7:52.

THE HARLEM REGATTA.

But One Outside Oarsman Took Part in the Events—Vesley Beat Titus.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Thousands of spectators lined the banks of the Speedway course, Harlem river, today when the thirty-eighth annual races of the Harlem regatta association were rowed. All the events were one mile straight away. The conditions were most favorable, weather, wind and water being unexceptional. The entries were from local clubs, with one exception, a sculler from Boston, who won his race.

The Columbia university crews carried off the honors of the day by winning the intermediate eights, intermediate fours, junior four-oared shell, the senior eights and senior fours. The three first events named were fought down to the last stroke and won only by a few feet. The only easy race the college boys had was in senior fours.

The senior single scull race showed conclusively that C. S. Titus, the former champion, has seen his best days in rowing form. He was beaten decisively by Vesley of the Bohemian club, and could not come up with him at any time in the race; in fact he only defeated Fussel, a local sculler, by a narrow margin. Vesley, a sculler from Boston, the only entry in the regatta from a distance, won the intermediate single race.

OPENING TENNIS TOURNEY.

Yale and Princeton Champions Take Part in the Play.

NEW YORK, May 30.—H. H. Hackett, the former Yale champion, and F. B. Alexander of Princeton, the former intercollegiate champion, today enlivened the first round of the singles in the tournament of the New York lawn tennis club. The meeting is the first of the season's events in this city held under the auspices of the United States National Lown Tennis association. In connection with it the Manhattan doubles championship for the silver challenge bowls will be played.

As the Columbia university tennis team, nearly all of whom are entered, were in Boston today, only half of the first round, singles, was played. Hackett and Alexander each won straight sets from local experts. The Canadian ex-champion, F. Anderson, also defeated his man in a finely contested match. If weather permits the championship doubles will be begun tomorrow, as it would be necessary to finish this part of the tournament because many of the college pairs entered have other scheduled contests for next Saturday.

TRAVIS' FINE FORM.

Played Great Golf and Picked to Win English Championship.

LONDON, May 30.—Walter J. Travis and John Moller, Jr., in a foursome of 36 holes at Sandwich today, easily defeated T. T. Gray and W. V. Manley. Travis played magnificently, doing the first 18 holes in 74 and the second 18 in 75. His approach shots were the feature of the game.

The consensus of opinion among the onlookers was that if Travis maintained today's form in the championship play, which opens tomorrow, he probably would be the winner.

Braddock Walloped by Swissvale.

Swissvale beat the Braddock A. C. at home yesterday, 10 to 2. The entire game was played in the rain and the visitors were inclined to make a farce out of it. Score:

Swissvale	2	0	5	2	1	2	3	*—10
Braddock	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	0—2

Two-base hits—Peters, Gumbert, McLaughlin. Home run—Wetish. Struck out—By Irwin, 5; by Turrell, 4; by Gillespie, 1; by Hughes, 2; by Emerick, 2. Bases on balls—Off Irwin, 3; off Hughes, 2; off Turrell, 3. Hit by pitcher—Prosser. Double plays—Morrison and F. Hughes; McBride and B. Gillespie. Stolen bases—Peters, Logue, O'Hara, Ward, McLaughlin. Umpire—Waters.

East Liberty Has Two Games.

East Liberty academy will play the Washington and Jefferson Preps today at Washington and the Washington High school Wednesday. Capt. McCracken will pitch either Kline or Bailey today.

MAY BE ANOTHER MURDER MYSTERY

Mutilated Body of Capt. John Henderson Taken from the River at Rankin.

MUCH WORK FOR CORONER

From the swirling of the water made by the steamer Juniata at 6 o'clock last evening at the landing of the Rankin plant of the American Steel and Wire Company, the body of Capt. John Henderson, who has been missing since last Friday night, was brought to the surface. The crew of the Juniata brought it ashore and it was later removed to an undertaking establishment at Braddock. It was reported that there had been foul play, but there is considerable doubt expressed as to this. However, examination of the body showed the neck to be broken and there is a severe cut extending from the scalp across the forehead.

Capt. Henderson, who was known as "Scotty," was employed by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company as superintendent of barges and loading. Last Friday afternoon he was engaged loading a number of barges with steel from the Rankin plant on the Monongahela river. He was last seen about 7 o'clock by some workmen. It is supposed that he accidentally fell overboard and was drowned. The police are inclined to believe, however, that this is not the case. They say that Henderson was an excellent swimmer. The coroner was notified last night and will investigate.

The deceased was about 43 years of age and lived with his wife and five children at 1931 Webster avenue. He was a native of Scotland.

Veteran Killed by a Train.

While on his way to join his comrades in Memorial day services William Meurer, aged 84, a veteran living at Wittmer station, was struck and instantly killed by a train on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad near Undercliff about 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Meurer was a member of Gen. A. A. Humphrey post No. 545, G. A. R., of Millvale, and left his home early, declaring that he would walk to the post's hall. He had just reached the tunnel at Undercliff when, in stepping out of the way of one train he was struck by another. His skull was crushed and the body badly mangled.

Suspended from a cherry tree by a piece of stout twine, the body of Frank Glanner, aged 75, was yesterday found in a thicket on the farm of Joseph Sauer, in Shaler township. Glanner formerly worked on the adjoining farm of M. Leutzinger, but disappeared about 10 days ago. The body was badly decomposed.

Heat prostration caused the death of Luke Hanam, aged 70, at the home of his son, James Hanam, 904 Penn street, Sharpsburg, last night. For several days he complained of the heat and yesterday fell dead just as he was leaving the supper table. He was a resident of Houtzdale, Pa., and was visiting his son.

Other Cases for the Coroner.

Henry Hensel, aged 34, of Sixth street extension, North Braddock, was struck and instantly killed by a train on the Pennsylvania railroad, near Copeland station, early yesterday morning.

Bernard O'Neil, aged 29, a barber of 162 Carson street, died at the Homeopathic hospital last night from pneumonia. The case was reported to the coroner.

Michael Kohn, aged 38, of 11 Forward avenue, employed as a laborer at Jones & Laughlin's Eliza furnace, was instantly killed yesterday morning by a falling skip bucket which crushed his skull.

The body of George Cole, aged 14, of 3523 Mulberry alley, who was drowned in the Allegheny river Friday, was recovered at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the foot of Thirty-sixth street.

PERSONALS

Fifteen years ago today occurred the greatest calamity that ever happened in the United States, with the exception of the Galveston flood. It was the Johnstown flood, in which over 2,600 lives were lost, of which 1,186 were never recognized and now lie in the Fairview cemetery at Johnstown in the plot designated as that of the "unknown." To celebrate the great work done by the newspaper men at that time the Johnstown Flood Correspondents' association will hold their annual dinner at the Hotel Schenley. More are expected to be present than on any previous anniversary dinner held in late years. A number of honorary members of the association have agreed to be present, among them ex-Gov. James A. Beaver of Bellefonte, now judge of the superior court; Col. Thomas M. King, formerly president of the Pittsburgh & Western railroad, now director of the B. & O.; J. V. Patton, formerly division superintendent of the B. & O.; Robert Pitcairn, resident assistant to President A. J. Cassatt of the Pennsylvania railroad; George McCreary of Philadelphia; J. Hampton Moore of Philadelphia, president of the Young Men's Republican clubs; S. S. Marvin, W. R. Thompson, treasurer of the Johnstown Flood commission; John Trevaskis of New York; Col. W. C. Connelly, manager of the Associated Press of this district; Charles M. Howell, superintendent of the West Penn hospital; Dr. W. M. Johnston, warden of the Western Pennsylvania penitentiary. Since the flood five of the members of the association have died. They are James B. Scott (dictator); Gen. and ex-Gov. Daniel H. Hastings, C. L. Magee, J. O. Brown and James McMillan. There were 118 newspaper correspondents reporting the flood results, 54 of whom were from Pittsburgh. Of this number 18 have died and four are in the orient doing work for daily and weekly papers.

C. S. Sims, general manager of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, will arrive this morning on business.

T. Boise, president of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, passed through the city last night on the Pennsylvania Southwest limited to St. Louis.

W. A. Margarison of Preston, England, arrived in the city yesterday on a tour of the United States. He will leave this morning for St. Louis. He is at the Hotel Duquesne.

The Rev. Henry M. Fisher of Atlantic City is at the Seventh Avenue hotel.

"EVEN THOUGH IT BE BY BURNING"

Bishop Derrick Declares the Negro Has Much to Be Thankful for Today.

WHITES DIED FOR HIM

"Millions of white men have died to give the negro the freedom he enjoys today, and, as he is no better, he can march out and die, too, even though it be by burning. It is not the man of color, but the man behind the skin. The black sailors on Perry's ship proved this, and the two negro regiments at San Juan hill again proved it. The negro sings and laughs too much, and the sooner he puts a little acid into his nature he will win respect. Lincoln converted slave pens into schoolrooms and the succeeding into school teachers. McKinley freed the black man from Spanish rule in Cuba, and the man who occupies the president's chair now was there to help him do it, as were two colored regiments.

Let the two great English-speaking nations stand her, and when the Great Operator touches the button each nation shall sing its national anthem. While Americans will sing "My Country, 'Tis of Thee" the forgiving Christian negro with all men shall stand equal.

Bishop Derrick was appointed to preside over this district, which includes Pittsburgh, northern Ohio and the Michigan conferences, at the recent general conference held in Chicago. While in Pittsburgh he will be the guest of the Rev. W. B. Anderson of 116 Excelsior street. Bishop Derrick is a native of England and a veteran of the civil war, having served three years as a master. He was on the Monitor in the great naval battle between that ship and the Merrimac. Two years ago he delivered the sermon on the occasion of the two hundred and fifty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Church of Catacombs in Canterbury cathedral, England.

MOUSE CAUSED ALARM IN SOUTH SIDE POLICE STATION

A scream issued from the matron's room of the South Side police station yesterday morning and the sergeant and wagonman feared some of the prisoners had escaped and attacked the matron. They ran to the female department and found the matron standing by the door trembling.

She could not speak and they went on a search to find who had made the attack. Finding nothing, they returned to the matron, who had recovered her voice, and were informed that there was a mouse in the bed. It was found and killed.

Braddock Horse Won Race.

Despite the driving rain a three-heat race was held here today at the Driving park, Astor, owned by Somley of Braddock, outpacing the others and taking all three heats. Results:

MEMORIAL DAY ON LOCAL LINKS

Ladies Were Out at Brighton. H. D. McCandless Won at Allegheny Country Club.

ON ALL THE GOLF COURSES

The heavy rains of yesterday marred the day for local golfers. Yet in spite of this drawback many players were a-field on the local courses.

Miss Elizabeth Rodgers won the approaching and putting contest yesterday at the Brighton Country club with 10 strokes for a ball at 55, 35 and 25 yards. Mrs. Elliott Rodgers and Miss B. H. Smith won the driving contest, averaging 100 yards for three balls. The men's handicap was postponed till next Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Grubbs won the mixed foursomes, played in the morning. Results were:

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Grubbs	92	11	82

R. S. Suydam	106	18	88

An important announcement was made yesterday regarding the tournament for the Laughlin cup for women. The date for it has been brought forward from June 11, 18 and 25, to Thursday, Friday and Saturday of the present week.

Through an error in reporting last Saturday's team match between Edgeworth club and Oakmont Country club, it was made to appear that J. S. Martin was defeated by F. M. Hutchinson. Mr. Martin did not play in the match.

FLEMING WON SHOT.

Many Trap Experts Took Part, but Rain Spoiled the Sport.

The Enterprise Gun club of McKeesport yesterday conducted the most successful tournament since its organization. The day was a bad one for shooting and rain interfered with the sport. It was after 6 o'clock before the last event was ended. Thirty-nine marksmen took part and there were 10 events, there being seven five-men squads and one four-man squad. Thirty prizes were distributed. Among the visitors were H. E. Fessenden of New Haven, Conn.; E. D. Fulford, ex-champion of the world; W. S. McCill of Pittsburgh, amateur champion of the United States.

In the longest number of consecutive hits Flemming was the topnotcher, having 56 to his credit. Calhoun of the Enterprise club had a run of 40. J. F. Calhoun of McKeesport made a remarkable record. He was up against champions and ex-champions and had the best record against the field outside of Fleming. He was the winner of the first prize in the merchandise shoot, breaking 36 straight. Calhoun also was high man in the distribution of money.

KICKING ON WEIGHT.

Abe Attell Wants McClelland to Suffer a Handicap.

ST. LOUIS, May 30.—(Special.)—Abe Attell is now setting up a kick after agreeing to all conditions of the match for Thursday next. He wants McClelland to make 122 pounds at 9 o'clock, three hours later than the usual time of weighing in.

McClelland put in a hard day's training and looks fit to win, although the betting so far favors Attel, 3 to 1 being the prevailing odds.

Yacht Challenge Is Declined.

LONDON, May 30.—The royal yacht squadron has declined the challenge of Commodore Morton Plant of the Larchmont Yacht club for the Cape May cup with his schooner yacht Ingomar. The squadron officials say that when the Brittania won the Cape May cup it was won outright, and was not subject to challenge.

DECORATION DAY WITH NO DEAD

Such Was the Strange Anomaly Presented at Atlantic City.

NO GRAVES ON THE ISLAND

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Young's Ocean Pier.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 30.

Decoration day was observed here with no ranks of marching veterans, no dirges, no flowers and no oratory. The reason for this is that there is not the grave of a human being within the limits of the city or upon the island. So far as the records show, but one man was buried on the island, early in the history of its settlement. His bones have long since been exhumed and reinterred in the pretty cemetery on the mountain shore, six miles across the thoroughfare of salt marshes. There is a post of the Grand Army of the Republic here, but early this morning it marched to the railroad station and left for the burial place of its dead.

$500 REWARD FOR WOMEN

WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, and Leucorrhea, that, after over a third of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot cure.

IT STANDS ALONE.—The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone, as the only and only remedy for these distressingly common forms of weakness, possessed of such positive specific curative properties as to warrant its makers in proposing, and binding themselves to forfeit, as we have, the undersigned proprietors of that wonderful remedy hereby do, to pay the sum of $500 in legal money of the United States in any case of the above diseases in which after a fair and reasonable trial of our treatment, we fail to cure. No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee; no other medicine for woman's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its manufacturers in making such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and turn your back on any unscrupulous dealer who would insult your intelligence by attempting to foist upon you some inferior substitute, under the plea that "it is just as good." Insist on having the article which has a record of a third of a century of cures and which is backed by those willing to forfeit $500 if they cannot cure you.

In cases attended by a leucorrheal drain a solution of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets should be used conjointly with the use of the "Favorite Prescription." They are sold by all druggists, or sent post-paid to any address, on receipt of 25 cents in stamps. Send 31 cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY, Buffalo, N. Y.

Weak and sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

club, which some time ago its last hunt, proposed yesterday a ide after the hounds, starting from the club house, to add to the scope of the entertainment, but was prevented by the rain.

The officers are considering holding the annual children's party at the club during June.

Pittsburghers at Canadohta.

A large number of Pittsburghers will be at Canadohta lake this summer as guests of the Canadohta Fishing club. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Liggett of Walnut street, East End, will spend a few days there this week, and in July will take their children to the lake for two months. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Liggett of Walnut street, who will be their guests for some time. Later they will entertain Mr. and Mrs. Noble Allan Birge of Sherman, Tex. The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Birge, the latter formerly Miss Pearl Cropsey, took place last fall.

C. M. Payne of Titusville is president of the Canadohta club and the directors are Thomas Liggett of this city, E. P. Roberts, L. K. Hyde, E. G. Heag and C. M. Jayne of Titusville. Among the members are Mr. and Mrs. Glen Braden of Sewickley. The reservation owned by the club is situated in one of the most picturesque spots of the state. The trip from Pittsburgh is made on the Allegheny Valley railroad to Tryonville, nine miles above Titusville, and from that place on the club's private railroad, the Canadohta branch, to the club grounds, a journey of another nine miles.

The club property consists of 850 acres, the lake covering 350 of them. The old two-story club house contains an office, reception room, dining and sitting rooms and several sleeping apartments. The annex, which has been built in recent years, is three stories in height, and each story is divided into private suites of rooms.

Prof. McKee's Daughter Will Wed.

Miss Mary G. McKee, daughter of the late James T. McKee, professor in the State college, and Harry Edwin Stitt, of Pittsburgh, will be married on Friday evening, June 10. The wedding will take place at the home of Miss McKee's cousins, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Morrison, in Stanton avenue, East End, and the ceremony will be performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. William A. Hudnut, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Youngstown, where Miss McKee's home is. The marriage will be witnessed only by the immediate friends of the bride and bridegroom.

The bridal party will include two bridesmaids, Miss Jean Stitt, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Agnes Elizabeth Morrison, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Morrison, with Robert Hubor as best man. After their return from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Stitt will make their home in Atwood street, Oakland. Mr. Stitt is connected with the engineering department of the Jones & Laughlin steel works.

Entertainments for Bride-Elect.

Miss Vernie Collord has selected Friday, June 10, as the day on which she will give a luncheon in honor of Miss Clara Barnes Wilson, a spring bride-elect. Mrs. John Wilson Thompson, of North Negley avenue, has invitations out for a luncheon on Wednesday, June 8, and tomorrow Mrs. Edward Stieren will be hostess at luncheon at her home in Sewickley. Miss Grace Hamilton and her brother, James Hamilton, will give a dinner in Miss Wilson's honor at the Country club on Saturday, June 11. Miss Wilson's fiance, Aaron Calvert Chesbrough, and his sister, Miss Grace Chesbrough, spent yesterday with Miss Wilson at her home in St. James street.

Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis in Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben Perry Sturgis, who were married in Dresden, Germany, in April, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning. Contrary to their original plans they did not stop in New York but came on directly to this city, where they are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Severance, Jr., at their home in Aiken avenue, Shadyside. Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis will remain until the last of the week when they will leave for Zanesville, O., the former home of Mr. Sturgis, who has been living abroad for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Severance gave a small dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis at the new Country club home last evening. Mrs. Sturgis was formerly Miss Louise Quimby, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Quimby, at one time Pittsburghers, who have been living in Europe for the past 10 years. Mrs. Sturgis is a niece of Mrs. Severance.

Freese; lemonade table, Mrs. Clyde Brooks, Mrs. George Hilton; general chairman, Mrs. W. E. Downey; treasurer, Miss Belle Campbell.

Wedding Rehearsal and Dinner.

The wedding of Miss Margaret McCandless, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Alexander AE. McCandless, of Denniston avenue, and Charles Sumner Lamble, will be a pretty affair tomorrow. Dr. and Mrs. McCandless gave a dinner of 15 covers last evening at their home, the rehearsal for the wedding following. In the party were Miss McCandless, Mr. Lamble, Miss Gertrude McCandless, Miss Anna Myra Petty, Miss Susan Gray, Miss Marie Johnson, Mrs. L. J. Gray, Guy M. Gray, William McCandless, John Lamble, Robert Blakeney Petty, Jr., Thomas Lamble and Frank Ramsey. The decorations were tastefully carried out with yellow daisies, these forming the centerpiece and also the favors of those of the guests who will not be in the wedding party. Members of the party received souvenirs in the form of pretty bits of jewelry, each contained in a yellow satin bag.

Mrs. Jean Wallace Webster a Visitor.

Mrs. Jean Wallace Webster is visiting in Pittsburgh on her way home from a winter spent in Florida. Mrs. Webster was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Everson over Sunday and this week will go to the home of her brother, William T. Wallace, Maple heights, Shadyside. Mrs. Webster will be remembered by many as one of the most popular singers in Western Pennsylvania 20 years ago. She was the solo soprano in the choir of St. Andrew's Episcopal church when Mr. Everson was organist there. Last Saturday afternoon an impromptu musicale was given in the Third Presbyterian church by Ernest Jores, the organist, and Miss Coombs, who sang. Mrs. Webster has been with her two sons, who have been attending school in Florida, and is now on her way home to Wallace station, near McKeesport.

Notes of Yesterday's Social Events.

The rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Eva Goldsworthy Carter and Vernon Henry Woolrich, which will take place tomorrow, was held last evening at the home of Mrs. E. Slack Davis, in Margaretta street.

Miss Sarah Booth gave a prettily appointed luncheon yesterday in honor of Miss Margaret Youngson, whose marriage to Dr. Bradford A. Booth, city physician, will take place on Thursday.

Miss Grace Patton of Atlantic avenue was hostess at a euchre yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Alonzo Tripp and Mrs. Herbert L. Tripp, of Blacksburg, S. C., the house guests of Mrs. William Darlington King. Five tables were in play and the prizes were taken by Mrs. King and Miss Gibson.

Blairsville Alumnae Lawn Fete.

A lawn fete will be held next Thursday afternoon and evening on the grounds of the Edgewood Park Presbyterian church for the benefit of the Blairsville College for Women, under the general supervision of Mrs. Dr. H. W. Fulton of the East End. By direction of the Blairsville college alumnae association, a committee of women fitted up in fine style the parlor of the college, and they now undertake to raise the money to pay the bills. There are about 100 members of the association in Pittsburgh and vicinity, and all are expected to contribute. The Rev. Dr. Samuel B. Linhart, formerly of Pittsburgh, is president of the college.

Returned from Their Wedding Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander M. Speer, Jr., arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning having returned from their wedding trip through California. They are now at home with Mr. Speer's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Alexander M. Speer, in Center avenue. Before her marriage last month, Mrs. Speer was Miss Sallie Dunbar. The wedding was an exceptionally beautiful one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Speer Kuhn in Forbes street.

Celebrated Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McKay celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding in the St. Stephen's Magyar church, McKeesport, yesterday. The Rev. Thomas Coyle, pastor, celebrated solemn high mass. After the service a reception was held at the home of the couple in Bridge street, McKeesport. Mr. McKay is one of the oldest business men in McKeesport.

Wedding in Munhall.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Bowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bowers of Munhall, and Charles Roleman of Braddock, will be solemnized on Wednesday evening, June 15, at 7:30 o'clock. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. S. F. Mitchell of Aspinwall. The bridal party will include a sister of the bride as maid of honor and Hugh Blyth as the best man.

Mr. Reed's Bachelor Dinner.

W. Edgar Reed, whose marriage to Miss Elizabeth Ahl McCook will be a brilliant affair tomorrow, gave his bachelor dinner last evening at the Duquesne club with covers laid for seven. The guests were the best man, Harry Schute, and the ushers, Haines Allen Mackesney, Houston Hill, Francis X. Barr, Maurice Dufresne and Eric Todd.

Opera Finely Sung--Melodrama, Vaudeville

SAVAGE'S COMPANY SANG WELL IN "IL TROVATORE"

Famous Old Opera Splendidly Rendered by English Opera Singers at Nixon.

By far the best work yet seen from the Savage English Opera company was done in their presentation of "Il Trovatore" last night at the Nixon theater, and it was, in many ways, about as satisfactory a performance of this favorite as it is possible to imagine. The cast was strong, Miss Brooks singing Leonora, Mr. Sheehan Manrica, Mr. Goff Count di Luna, while Miss Ivell gave a remarkable portrayal of Azucena.

Chevalier Emanuel led the orchestra with that admirable and sympathetic manner which we have come to expect from him. Old as the opera undoubtedly is, and often badly mutilated by amateurs and second rate professionals, ground out on street organs, taught to the school room miss, yet, when well played, as it was last night, it never fails to charm. Its beauty, variety and dramatic effect suffered nothing of loss from Emanuel's leadership.

In the first act the ballad, in mazurka time, sung by Mr. Bennett as Ferrando, at once aroused the enthusiasm of the house, and throughout the evening there was the warmest appreciation, many numbers receiving hearty encores.

Miss Brooks, as a botuet, is vastly more attractive in stage appearance than Miss Brooks as a blonde, and she made a Leonora good to look upon and immensely good to hear. The brilliant bit of bravura in the garden scene and the florid aria of the last act were noticeable for their exquisite execution. In her duets with Manrico, Miss Brooks scored a complete triumph. There was much of grace and charm in her action, and the role throughout seemed to have been made peculiarly her own.

The conception of Azucena, as presented by Miss Ivell, was almost as remarkable as Miss Brooks' Leonora. In make-up and in dramatic action Miss Ivell gave an Azucena which was surprising from a young woman of 25 years. There was a strength and an assured quality in Miss Ivell's work which would be cheak for her an unusual equipment. Her voice was in fine form, and in the duet, "Back to Our Mountans," was especially appealing in quality.

The way in which Mr. Sheehan took the high C in his great aria was enough by itself to make his singing of Manrico notable. He is a most convincing artist, and his voice seems to gain steadily in strength and beauty. Mr. Sheehan is becoming a great favorite here through the excellence of his work, not only as a singer with an exceptional voice, but as a finished artist. His meed of praise, however, must be shared with Mr. Goff, whose Count di Luna should be spoken of as one of the best seen in late years.

The opera was staged and costumed with infinite taste and happy effect. The chorus work was well balanced and full of life.

Avenue—Vaudeville.

Decoration day audiences packed the Avenue theater yesterday. There was not standing room one hour after the opening of the doors for either the afternoon or evening performances. This condition is not unusual at Manager Davis' pretty house, but yesterday an unusually fine bill served as the magnet to draw the greater crowds. The vaudeville menu included the rarest dishes, as well as many of the old substantial relishes of the business. Edna Wallace Hopper, the dainty little comedienne of musical comedy, captured the black-faced type on the program, but there were other acts equally as attractive. The little ex-wife of DeWolf Hopper was seen in a playlet which is said to be an adaptation from the French by Cosmo Gordon Lennox. The play is only a trifle and narrates how an old Egyptian actress came back to earth in response to table tappings in order to teach the young music hall queen of London a lesson and secure the happiness of two loving hearts. There is hardly any dramatic sense or coherency in the piece, but it serves to introduce Edna Wallace Hopper in a beautiful gown and gives the audience a chance to hear her sing "Katydid" and "The Girl You Love" in that small little voice that charmed us so in comic opera. The fair Edna is taller, thinner and more dignified than when she used to caper around in various soubrette roles, but she is just as chic. That she is an actress there is no doubt. The present sketch does not give her much chance, but do we not remember her Wilburs Ann in "The Girl I Left Behind Me?" In her present play Mrs. Hopper is assisted by H. Hazard Short and Miss Lilia Vane. The rest of the Avenue bill is up to, if not beyond the standard. Edmund Day is seen in one of his own playlets, "Shipmates;" Ed. F. Reynard is one of the most original ventriloquists in the business and his country villas, dialogues are so ingeniously cast as to provoke roars of laughter. McPhee and Hill do some sensational acrobatic work; James Richmond Glenroy has a monologue that for downright idiocy takes the prize, but it is the sort of idiocy that sane people seem to extract a great deal of fun from; Jennie Yeamans is always welcome, while the Melani troupe do a really clever musical and comedy act. Young and DeVole, Avery and Hart, Brown and Bartoletti and Louise Sylvester are among the other performers who add a finishing touch to a splendid holiday collection of vaudeville.

Bijou—"Queen of the White Slaves."

"The Queen of the White Slaves," that three hours of nightmare which delighted Bijou audiences less than three months ago, returned yesterday and appeared before two immense audiences. Little change has been made in the performance since it was last given here and the same hair-raising climaxes and thrilling situations were rehearsed. Arthur J. Lamb, the author of this piece, has outdone anything that ever came from the pen of Theodore Kremer, and the successful rivalry of Kremer seemed to be appreciated. The most enthusiastic applause followed every scene, and notwithstanding that a poor company interprets the roles, the play is a success from the standpoint of the box office, and always will be while people accept cheap realism for art.

MRS. MARTIN DEAD.

A Famous Patron of Theater and Friend of Actors and Actresses Passes Away.

Mrs. Ellen Martin, known to the theatrical profession as "Aunt Ellen," by the majority of whom she was dearly beloved, died in Baltimore on Sunday last at her home, "The Martin," which has for over 35 years been the stopping place of the most prominent theatrical stars in their annual visits to Baltimore. "Aunt Ellen's Kitchen" is famous for the celebrities who have dined there. Edwin Booth, Lawrence Barrett, Tom Keene, Maggie Mitchell, Lotta, Mary Anderson, Mrs. Bowers, Richard Mansfield, Nat Goodwin, E. H. Sothern, James K. Hackett, Julia Marlowe, the grand opera stars and other equally notable people have made Mrs. Martin's house their home while in Baltimore. The funeral will take place at the Baltimore cathedral tomorrow morning. Among the pallbearers is Tunis F. Dean, who left for Baltimore last night. The other pallbearers include William Courtleigh, James T. Powers, William Collier, Charles E. Ford, Robert Haines and Eugene Ormonde.

Laura Joyce Bell Dead.

News of the death of the clever comic opera comedienne came with a distinct shock, it not being generally known outside of New York theatrical circles that she was even ill. Here in Pittsburgh Mrs. Bell will be recalled as an especially clever actress. She was last seen in this city at the Avon theater a year ago last fall, when she, in company with her husband, Digby Bell, were both supporting cast of "Mr. Pickwick," the latest musical comedy venture of DeWolf Hopper, prior to his revival of "Wang." Digby Bell, the dead actress' husband, was at the Avenue only a few weeks ago. Mrs. Bell was a native of England, having been born there 46 years ago. Her maiden name was Laura Maskell and she came to this country in 1872. She was the comedienne of many comic operas managed by McCaull, Duff and Daly. Her Katisha in "The Mikado" was one of her best roles. She was married to Digby Bell in 1882.

LIVELY FIGHT OVER STREET CAR SEATS MARRED OUTING OF A SEXTET

Four women and two men engaged in a lively fist fight at Craig and Forbes streets yesterday afternoon. After fighting for nearly five minutes all boarded a Monongahela car and rode to Homestead, where the two men got off and renewed the fight. The trouble was caused by one of the men attempting to secure seats in a crowded Kennywood park car for three women who accompanied him. Another woman attempted to take one of the seats and this man shoved her off the car. An umbrella which he held struck the woman in the face. Her husband promptly dragged the first man off the car. Soon the three women who accompanied the first man and the other man's wife mixed up in the fight. After boarding a car all were obliged to stand, as the seats over which they had fought were taken by other passengers. At Homestead, after the men had renewed the fight, they were separated by the apearance of a policeman.

WOMAN SOMNAMBULIST IS PROBABLY FATALLY HURT

NEW YORK, May 30.—(Special.)—Mrs. Mary Pross, 30 years old, of Schenectady, N. Y., came to visit at the home of her cousin, Charles Ross, in Williamsburg. She is a somnambulist, and when she retired last night her relatives made her sleep on the inside of the bed. Early today Mrs. Pross, the cousin's wife, was suddenly awakened. She saw the white form of Mrs. Pross at the window ledge of the third floor and screamed. Mrs. Pross, suddenly awakened, fell out of the window. Her right leg and thigh were shattered and she received such severe internal injuries that little hope is entertained of her recovery.

PHILIPS FAMILY HOLDS REUNION

Third Annual Celebration of "Permanent Organization" Held at Old Library.

Nearly 300 descendants of Joseph and Mary Philips met yesterday in the old church at Library, Pa., to celebrate the third annual reunion of the Philips family. Three years ago a permanent organization was effected with members from all parts of Pennsylvania and several adjoining states. The little church yesterday was barely large enough to hold the offspring of the old couple, and as the weather was pleasant some of the "business" proceedings were conducted out of doors.

The Rev. O. H. Philips of Braddock and the Rev. W. A. Philips of the Lincoln Avenue United Presbyterian church were the principal speakers. The former told why the family should be proud of its name and of the fact that so many members are pastors. The Rev. W. A. Philips gave a number of interesting facts regarding the genealogy, and even went so far as to trace the lineage to the year 1000 A. D. A number of years ago a sketch of the Philips family was published, which contained the names of 1,700 descendants. A second edition of this book will soon be brought out.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Robert L. Riggs, McKeesport; vice president, Dr. F. J. Philips; recording secretary and treasurer, William E. Clark, Ingram; corresponding secretary, Prof. S. D. Everhart; executive committee, Dr. W. T. Philips, Library, Dr. L. W. Rigge, Pittsburgh, and Joseph R. Philips, Library. The next reunion will be held on May 30 at the same place.

One of the oldest members present was Edwin Miles of Allegheny, whose age is 87 years. The youngest was Dorothy Philips Clark, aged 10 months. William Mouck, whose age is 90, was also present, but he is a member of the family by marriage, having married Nancy Philips 70 years ago.

Joseph and Mary Philips came to this country from Wales in 1775, settling near Chester, Pa. They had four sons, who, at the outbreak of the American revolution, formed and officered a company. At the close of the war the eldest son, David, entered the ministry and became pastor of the Peters Creek Baptist church.

WIDOWS AND ORPHANS OF MINE DISASTER MOURN

Harwick Women and Children Visited the Graves of the Men Who Lost Their Lives Below Ground and Services Were Held.

One of the most unique and pathetic memorial services held yesterday was at Springdale. Besides the services and ceremonials held by the Grand Army of the Republic there was a much more sorrowful and much more poignant observance of the day because the cause of the parade and prayers was more recent. The widows and orphans of the victims of the Harwick mine explosion marched through the rain, headed by bands playing dirges, to the little cemetery where lie the bodies of the 145 victims of the disaster. Limping before all the others and leading the musicians, was Antonio Gonia, the sole survivor of the men who entered the pit on that calamitous day. Less than two weeks ago he was discharged from St. Francis hospital after the terrible ordeal he had gone through and months of suffering. What his feelings were could not be guessed from his face, but as the one of all the others he, no doubtless felt what few mortals have experienced.

The parade and services were arranged by the United Mine Workers of America, representatives of whom were present at the parade and many of them are now working in the same mine which sent so many of their fellows to eternity. From the long line of miners' cottages the procession wound its way to the cemetery. The bands played the "Dead March" as if the coffins trailed behind, but only the living followed. When the little band reached the cemetery, set aside almost entirely for the dead miners, the grief of some of the widows could not be restrained, but they managed to step the last few paces to the graves.

When the bands were stilled the voice of the Rev. Father Hamilton, of the Springdale Roman Catholic church was heard, and after prayer he told how the men lying so peacefully below had been taken while they were working as breadwinners for those widows and children who were then grouped about. Attorney Hadley of Harwick, also spoke. The memorial services at the cemetery of the Harwick disaster were just as impressive as those over those of the soldiers. Both were fighting for something they believed to be right. During the past year in Springdale township there have been 225 deaths, most of them accidental.

The Soda Cracker of To-day

Until a few years ago people didn't think very much about soda crackers—housewives bought them occasionally, but the position of the soda cracker in the family larder was a very humble one indeed.

What was the reason?

There were two: first the soda crackers were not of the best possible quality; and second, the method of selling them in bulk from barrels or boxes resulting in loss of flavor, and exposure to damp, dust and odors.

Then the National Biscuit Company came upon the field. This company saw the possibilities of the soda cracker—saw that it possessed many of the qualifications of an ideal article of food—and started in to perfect it.

First they improved the quality of the cracker itself—used only the finest materials and gave a care to the baking hithertofore unknown.

Next they adopted a new and better way of packing these crackers—they packed them fresh from the oven in air tight, damp proof packages so that they reached the consumer with their delicate flavor fully retained, pure, clean, and crisp.

Then these crackers were named Uneeda Biscuit and sold at the remarkably low price of 5c. a package.

Their success was instantaneous, unprecedented.
To-day Uneeda Biscuit are one of the staples of life.

They are sold in every city, village and hamlet in the country.
They are bought in place of the old fashioned crackers, and they are bought by people who never bought the old fashioned crackers.
But perhaps the best proof of the place that they hold in the hearts of the people, is found in the fact that in five years America has eaten over 300,000,000 packages of

PANIC OF FLAT TENANTS.

Fire in Basement Caused Them to Turn Out in Lounging Clothes.

People living in the Buckingham apartments, Craft avenue and Elsinore square, were thrown into a panic last night by a fire which broke out in the cellar at 8:30 o'clock. The fire was caused by an overheated gas engine setting the woodwork ablaze.

Dense volumes of smoke went up the airshaft and into the rooms of the occupants, who made hurried exits to the street without waiting to complete their toilettes. An alarm was sent in, but before the arrival of the firemen Police Lieutenant Emmett extinguished the fire with a hatchet.

DESERTER IS CAUGHT.

Pat Kearney, Coal Heaver Aboard the Maine, Falls Into Hands of Police.

Wanted for desertion from the United States battleship Maine, Patrick J. Kearney, aged 30, a coal heaver, was arrested by the Braddock police last night.

He left the ship April 8 at Pensacola, Fla., and it is believed that he started directly for his home in Braddock. The navy department has been notified and will send an officer to take charge of Kearney.

WHO STOLE MAYOR HAYS' DOG?
DARK MOTIVES ARE ALLEGED.

Lese-Majesty! Who stole Mayor Hays' dog!

LOST—Fox terrier male dog, weighs 15 to 16 pounds, 20 months old, brown and black face, white stripe running from nostril tip to forehead, spot on right side (heart shape), black spot on tail, and has not got his ears clipped. Had leather collar with license No. 2295. Answers to name of Ned.
(Signed) MAYOR HAYS.

The above proclamation was issued from the mayor's office yesterday afternoon and sent to all police stations. Last night every member of Pittsburgh's police force was looking for the chief executive's dog. While the mayor was engrossed in figuring out the cost of the hump removal by an abbreviated algebraic method early yesterday morning, some traitor slipped upon the grounds of the mayoralty residence in Watson street and kidnaped "Ned." Dark political motives are said to lurk around the abduction.

"Ned" was presented to the mayor during his mayoralty campaign, and aside from being a stanch Citizen worker, has been recognized as the mascot of the party.

The fact that he went through that strenuous campaign and "has not had his ears clipped" made him especially valuable. The recent strife in the Fourteenth ward has been recalled in this case and there are those who have grave fears for the administration unless "Ned" is restored. At a late hour last night a return from all police stations to the Fourteenth ward showed that the dog had not been located, and unless he is found today a shakeup in police circles is predicted. Some say the reward is to be the "permanent" assistant chief-of-policeship.

GRAVES DECORATED IN MEMORY OF BRAVE DEEDS

KITTANNING, PA., May 30.—(Special.)—The Memorial day address was delivered in the court house by ex-Judge John M. Greer of Butler, the music being rendered by a chorus of 60 voices. The annual memorial sermon was preached by the Rev. Father L. A. Carroll, in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, and was attended by 100 members of the G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans. A touching tribute was paid to the memory of Senator Quay by the speaker.

NEW CASTLE—(Special.)—Veterans paraded and decorated graves. President of Select Council Wylie McCaslin spoke at Greenwood cemetery.

ALTOONA—(Special.)—G. A. R. men and uniformed Knights of Pythias decorated graves. The G. A. R. held services at night and the Rev. Jas. M. Janes of York spoke.

WASHINGTON—(Special.)—The members of W. F. Templeton post No. 120, G. A. R., Tenth regiment band and Sons of Veterans, military and civic societies and other citizens decorated the soldiers' graves in the local cemeteries. Exercises were then held in City hall, the principal address being made by the Rev. J. K. Bailey of West Newton. At Canonsburg the address was made by John H. Murdoch of Washington, followed by a parade. At Centerville the exercises were held in the Presbyterian church, the address being by Wooda N. Carr of Uniontown.

MONONGAHELA.—(Special.)—The Rev. Starkey addressed G. A. R. men and Sons of Veterans at the Methodist Episcopal church. Memorial services were held at the cemetery.

SHARON—(Special.)—The Memorial day parade included the fire department, police force, city council, St. John's Brigade, St. John's Cadets, Buhl Band and Rifles, Presbyterian Brigade, Baptist brigade, Knights of St. John and old veterans. Prof. E. C. Eckels of Pittsburgh delivered the memorial oration at Sharpsville. A. E. Eckles of Pittsburgh made the Memorial day address.

BUTLER.—(Special.)—Judge James M. Galbreath spoke at the Memorial day services at the court house. Committees decorated graves at the cemeteries.

BLAIRSVILLE.—(Special.)—Memorial day observed by a parade of veterans, national guardsmen and others. District Attorney Cunningham of Greensburg delivered an oration.

SCOTTDALE.—(Special.)—The Memorial day exercises were in charge of Scottdale camp, No. 120, Sons of Veterans, and Ellsworth post, No. 206, Grand Army of the Republic. As "taps" sounded young ladies decorated graves of veterans and sons. The oration was delivered by Chaplain T. W. Lyons, camp No. 120. Services were also held in the Catholic cemetery and in the Baptist cemetery near Pennsville. In the afternoon the Scottdale camp went to Alverton and held services. Addresses were made by the Rev. W. J. Umstead, the Rev. J. H. Hickman and Chaplain Lyons.

IRWIN.—(Special.)—The Memorial day parade comprised the Grand Army of the Republic, patriotic societies and different lodges. There were exercises at the cemetery with an oration by A. C. Snively. Business houses and residences were beautifully decorated, a trip to the world's fair being offered for the best decorated building. The prize will be awarded later.

BACK TO HIS EARLY FIELD.

Rev. Dr. Cummings Called Back to North Branch Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Philander J. Cummings received a unanimous call last Sunday to the pastorate of the North Branch Presbyterian church at a salary of $340 a year, with the expectation of receiving $200 additional from the Presbyterial missions committee of the Pittsburgh presbytery, making a total salary of $540 a year, the smallest salary paid in the presbytery.

It is a case of "called back," the only case of the kind in the long history of the presbytery. Dr. Cummings began his ministry in the North Branch church and was called over it as pastor from 1866 to 1874, when the church was in its glory and was crowded for every service. Now, 38 years after he was installed before, he comes back to close his ministry, as he is now almost 70 years of age.

Hold Over Licenses Granted.

Offices of the clerk of courts and the county treasurer were open for some time yesterday morning to accommodate those saloon-keepers who were granted licenses with a 30-day penalty attached. The first man secured his license at 7:10, and at 9:30 the last had been fixed up and the offices were closed. All those who secured the necessary paper promptly opened up for the holiday.

POVERTY BEGETS CRIMINALS.

Famous Student of Sociology Defends Poor Children and Juvenile Law.

The river revivalists and reformers, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Orne of New York city, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday morning aboard the Keystone State. They came here direct from New Orleans, completing a tour of over 80,000 miles by gospel wagon and boat through the west and south. Dr. Orne is a sociological student, and in conversation yesterday stated that the country is rearing a crop of bad criminals. He said:

"During the past 10 years the criminal class has been increasing at the rate of 75 per cent while the population has increased only 21 per cent during the same period. About 95 per cent of these criminals come from the ranks of dependent children, children who are deprived of the benefits of home training. Nine-tenths of the tramps in this country come from the ranks of these same homeless people."

The Three Rivers

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, May 30.—The stage of the river at 6 o'clock this evening marked 18.8 feet and stationary. Weather partly clear and cloudy with rain at intervals during the day. The local packets were in and out on time, all doing a big passenger business. The excursion boats also did a big business. The towboat movements were: Arrivals—Tom Dodsworth with 34 pieces; her tow was added to here and she passed down for Louisville at 1 o'clock; the J. G. Risher passed up at noon with a tow of seven empties. The local rains of last night served to stay the fall in the river here.

GREENSBORO.—River 7.9 feet and falling. Weather rain and cooler. Columbia, down Tuesday. Hite up.

STEUBENVILLE.—River 11.8 feet and falling. Weather cloudy and warm. Up—Ranger, Rival, Joseph Walton, H. K. Bedford. Down—Harvester, Pacific No. 2, Ironsides and John Moren.

WARREN.—River 3.6 feet. Rain.

LOUISVILLE.—River stationary. In canal, 7.6 feet; on falls, 5.4 feet; below locks, 15.2 feet. Rainy.

POINT PLEASANT.—River 14.5 feet and rising. Down—Virginia. Up—Coal City.

HUNTINGTON.—River 18 feet and rising. Virginia for Cincinnati 9 a. m. Up with empties—Charles Brown. Heavy rain.

OIL CITY.—River 4.2 feet and falling. Weather cool and raining.

GALLIPOLIS.—River 16 feet and rising slowly. Weather cloudy and warm.

PARKERSBURG.—River 17.5 feet and stationary. Weather warm and raining. The Queen City passed up for Pittsburgh at noon. The Excel and French left for Creston this afternoon.

WHEELING.—River 11 feet and falling. Warm and showers. Up—Queen City, Pittsburgh. Down with coal—Harvester, Pacific No. 2, Ironsides, John Moren.

MARIETTA.—River 13.1 feet and falling. Showers and warmer. Queen City, up, noon. Josh Cook, up, 7 a. m.; Sallie, up, noon; Volunteer, up, 3 p. m.; Enterprise, up, 4 p. m. Kanawha Rees, down, 10 a. m.; Crescent, down, 10 a. m.

RIVERMEN HAD HOLIDAY.

All Boats Were Tied Up and Day Was Observed Unusually.

For the first time in its history, the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company gave all of its employes in the Pittsburgh district "a day off on full pay," yesterday. About 15 boats in use on the local rivers were tied up as a result of this and Memorial day was generally observed by rivermen than it has been for many years. The employes of other local companies were also treated kindly and navigation was at a standstill as far up the coal and other industries were concerned.

There is very little coal at the harbor landings at present, in case of a good stage of water this week sufficient coal may be brought down to furnish several boats with tows. The Joe Walton, Mariner, Rival, Tom Lysle and Josh Cook are on their way upriver and will arrive today. Packets were running regularly and passenger lists yesterday were big, both to Cincinnati and Morgantown. The Francis Brown and Sallie Slower made trips up-river and were well patronized.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks on the gauge at the Davis Island dam indicated a stage of 7.8 feet and the river was falling.

Foreign Money Markets.

LONDON, May 30.—Money, 2½@3 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 2@2 1-16 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for three months' bills is 2@2 1-16 per cent. Money was in good month-end demand in the market today. Discounts were easy in anticipation of easter money at the month-turn. Trading on the stock exchange opened dull, being influenced by the fact that this is Derby week, but in the settlement in Paris and by the holiday in New York. The market generally was firm, owing Verdict in Jones Murder Case.

WAYNESBURG, PA., May 30.—(Special.)—A verdict was rendered in the Jones murder trial at 10 o'clock this morning. Lellwood Loving and Mrs. Alexander Jones were found guilty in the second degree. Thomas Loving was acquitted. One man held the jury since Saturday night, eleven of them favoring first degree for Lellwood Loving.

Cattle.

The supply of cattle was lighter than last week or the week before, there having been a total of about 90 cars. The market was firm as it has been for some time. The receipts embraced all kinds of stock from good beef cattle down. Prices were about 10 cents higher. Quotations follow: Choice, 1,400 to 1,600 lbs, $5 55@5 60; prime, 1,300 to 1,400 lbs, $5 45@5 45; good, 1,200 to 1,300 lbs, $5 35@5 45; tidy, 1,050 to 1,150 lbs, $4 10@7 10; fair, 900 to 1,100 lbs, $4 30@4 60; common, 700 to 900 lbs, $3 30@4 10; roughs, 1,000 to 1,200 lbs, $3 85@4 50; heifers, 700 to 1,100 lbs, $3 10@4 60; common to good fat bulls, $2 10@4 50; good fresh cows and springers, $40 00@55 00; common to fair, $20 00@35 00.

Sheep and Lambs.

About 30 loads were the sheep and lamb receipts yesterday and prices were from 20 to 25 cents lower. The market was slow. Spring lambs are now hurting the yearling lamb market, only a few springers are coming forward from this vicinity but arrivals are heavy from Tennessee and Kentucky. These shipments are evident at Ohio river markets, especially, and values are lower as a natural result. Philadelphia and Jersey City are now taking immense quantities of springers, leaving only local demand to absorb yearlings. Quotations follow: Prime wethers, 95 to 100 lbs, $5 10@5 25; good mixed, 85 to 90 lbs, $4 80@5 00; fair mixed, 75 to 80 lbs, $4 30@4 65; culls and common, $2 50@3 25; choice lambs, $6 00@6 25; fair to good, $5 30@5 95; common, $3 30@3 75; veal calves, $4 75@5 00; heavy and thin, $3 50@4 00; spring lambs, 8c to 9c a pound.

Hogs.

The hog market ruled active yesterday. Receipts were 60 double-deckers. Best weights are firm at present. Quotations follow: Prime heavy, $4 95@5 00; medium, $4 95@5 00; heavy Yorkers, $4 90@4 95; light Yorkers, $4 00@4 70; pigs, $4 00@4 70; roughs, $3 00@4 00; stags, $2 50@3 75; common to fair roughs, $3 50@3 85.

ANOTHER PRODUCER FOUND A MILE NORTHWEST OF WAHL WELL

On account of Memorial day operations in the oil fields were generally suspended. In the new development on Richwood run, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company drilled its test on the James Eatson farm through the Big Injun, found that formation barren and is now drilling to the Gordon. In the Yellow Creek district, Calhoun county, the Lowther Oil Company has drilled its No. 12 on the James Metz farm through the Berea grit and will not have better than a 10 or 12-barrel pumper. The Tomlinson Oil Company's No. 7 on the A. C. Fisher farm has declined to 140 barrels a day. The South Penn Oil Company's No. 3 on the Camden-Sommers farm is still producing 600 barrels and the Cresco Oil Company's No. 1 on the S. I. Stillman farm, 110 barrels a day.

In the Bonds Creek district, Ritchie county, the Carter Oil Company's No. 2 on the Douglass reserve is still producing 120 barrels a day. On Sancho creek, Tyler county, C. F. Mercer & Co. have completed their No. 4 on the Thomas tract in the Big Injun for a 50-barrel pumper. In the new development, northwest of Woodfield, Monroe county, O., another producer has been drilled in and extends the producing limits a mile to the northwest. The new wells are by Hue, Mooney & Schaffer, and is located on the Robert Cooper farm, a mile northwest of the Southern Oil Company's gusher on the George Wahl farm. The new well is good for a 50-barrel producer in the Keener sand. This shows an extension to the new development in the direction named. The Southern Oil Company's No. 1 on the George Wahl farm is producing 150 barrels a day. The cause for the decline is due to a piece of bit stuck in the lime, which prevents bailing out the water. One mile northwest of Jackson Ridge, the Queen Oil and Gas Company has drilled its test on the Emery Taylor farm through the Keener sand and has a duster.

In the New Matamora development, Washington county, the Melrose Oil and Gas Company has completed its test on the J. W. Patterson farm in the Big Injun and will not have better than a 2-barrel pumper. In the same district, the Camden Oil Company has completed its test well on the S. L. West farm and has a 6-barrel pumper in the Keener. In the Payne district, on Mill Fork, Purdy & Duffield have drilled their test on the Robert Reed farm about 1,000 feet east of any production, through the Cow Run sand and have a show for a 15-barrel pumper.

In the Wolf Creek district, Lambert & Co. have completed their second test on the Van Fossen heirs' farm and have a show for a 50-barrel producer in the shallow sand. J. Lockard & Co. have completed No. 25 on the John Sheets farm and have a show for a 40-barrel producer. Fisher, Lambert & Co. have completed a test on the Mann Bachelor farm and have a duster.

In the Marietta district, the Bertha Oil Company has completed its No. 3 on the O'Evans farm and has a very light pumper. The Marietta Consolidated Gas Company completed its second test on the Joseph Perdew farm and has a 6-barrel pumper in the Reppert sand.

In the Trail Run district, Monroe county, the Ann Oil Company has completed its test on the Michael Lund farm and has a duster. West of Empire, Jefferson county, E. H. Jennings & Bros. have their No. 10 on the M. & R. B. Smith farm into the Berea grit and have developed a strong 3-barrel pumper. A. H. Lowry & Co. have drilled in their test of the John R. Winn farm and the well has made a flow south of the Knoxville & Volopment, the Consolidated Oil Company, Inc., has completed its No. 9 on the R. A. Warr farm and has a very small pumper.

Southwest of Burgettstown, Washington county, Pa., the Southern Oil Company & Greenlee has completed a second test on the David McPeek farm and have a duster. The same company has drilled in its test on the Alex Hass farm and has a show for a very light pumper, 4 or 5 barrels a day.

South of the development between Georgetown and Hookstown, in Beaver county, the Crown Petroleum Company has a good producer in its test on the F. S. Laughlin farm. It is producing 80 barrels a day naturally. In the development in Columbiana county, O., the Devontan Oil Company has completed its test on the McCoy farm and has a 2-barrel pumper in the Big Injun. In the same district, Kirk & Snyder have completed their test on the Strawbecker farm and have a duster. The Ohio Kind Oil Company has drilled its test on the Nicholas farm and has a duster.

BATTERY B UNVEILED
SHAFT TO S. J. STEWART

Son of Deceased War Sergeant Uncovered Monument in Highwood Cemetery.

In recognition of services rendered by First Sergeant Samuel J. Stewart, Hampton light battery B, Pennsylvania volunteers, yesterday afternoon in Highwood cemetery, Allegheny, unveiled a handsome stone shaft to the honor of the only member who died in active duty during the enlistment of the battery in the Spanish-American war.

The spot selected for the monument is one of the most beautiful in the cemetery, and the services during the closing hours of the day were impressive. The relatives of the deceased soldier were present, in addition to the battery and the Hampton Battery association, and Camp Alfred E. Hunt, No. 8, United Spanish War Veterans.

The ceremonies were opened with a hymn by the choir of the First Christian church, Allegheny, and the Rev. Dr. Wallace Thorp, pastor of the same church, delivered a prayer. Lieut. Harry S. Lydick made the address of the afternoon. He paid a tribute to Sergeant Stewart and recounted the war and national guard record of the soldier.

Upon the conclusion of the address a son of Sergeant Stewart removed the cover from the monument, while the choir sang "America." Trumpeter Battles, a veteran of the battery, standing at the foot of the grave, sounded "taps," and Dr. Thorp pronounced the benediction.

Dr. Calhoun Will Accept.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph Painter Calhoun, pastor of the Homewood Avenue Presbyterian church, where he has been for 14 years, has accepted his appointment as field secretary of the Presbyterian general assembly's evangelistic committee and will enter at once on his new work. He met the evangelistic committee last Friday night in Philadelphia and announced to them his decision, which he will announce to his congregation next Sunday morning.

largely to the monetary position. Consols and home rails were steady. Americans were lifeless. Some of the stocks nominally were lower, notably, Union Pacific. The market closed quiet. Grand Trunk was buoyant as the result of the unexpected large increase in the revenue. Japanese hardened.

PARIS, May 30.—Three per cent rentes, 97 francs 45 centimes for the account. Prices on the bourse today had an upward tendency and closed very firm, except Russians, which were irregular. Russian imperial 4s closed at 89.10.

BERLIN, May 30.—Exchange on London marks 40¼ pfgs. for checks. Discount rates—Short bills, 2¼ per cent; three months' bills, 3 per cent. Business on the bourse today was extremely stagnant.

A Big If.

A large copper-producing company which has just paid a dividend for the first time in more than a year proposes to continue the payment of dividends if copper continues at the present price.

The GEORGE A. TREADWELL MINING COMPANY, as soon as its smelting plant now in process of erection is completed, can pay dividends at a rate which ought to satisfy the most ambitious stockholder, without any IF.

Since the development work of the three years of the TREADWELL properties, costing nearly a million dollars, has uncovered ore bodies extensive enough to last as long as any present stockholder will live to enjoy his dividends, and a smelting plant of the capacity as that with which the Treadwell Verde paid 180 per cent dividends on ores of character and value like ours—is being erected. Our ores, like those of the Verde, contain enough copper to nearly or quite pay all the costs of mining and smelting, so that we can pay our dividends without regard to the price of copper.

There is no IF in the case of the TREADWELL.

A small amount of stock is for sale; complete smelter equipment.

Prices will be quoted on application.

OFFI... OPEN TODAY IN ...EW WABASH STATION

Executive, Engineering, Auditing and Real Estate Departments Move from Fourth Avenue.

The offices of the Pittsburgh officers of the Wabash Pittsburgh Terminal Railroad Company will open this morning on the third floor of the new passenger station and office building at Ferry street and Liberty avenue. By extra work, day and night, that part of the building has been completed in advance of the others. The offices that will be located from now on in this building are those which have been quartered heretofore in the Fleming building, Fourth avenue. The officers include J. W. Patterson, president and chief engineer; the new road; John ... Walsh, vice president and auditor; C. McK. Watts, assistant engineer; Archibald Mackrell, real estate agent; Karl C. Link, architect, and the general engineering and accounting forces.

The offices of the traffic department remain, for the present at least, where they have been quartered for two years, at 320 Fifth avenue, the old Gazette building. The officers remaining there are Col. F. B. Tristram, Col. W. D. Holliday, Charles Hamilton and H. S. Bradley, having charge of the freight and passenger departments.

TRACTION PARKS CROWDED.

Music, Dancing, Vaudeville and Other Attractions Made Up Programs.

Kennywood park had immense crowds ...es yesterday. Everything was in full blast, ...and there were multitudes streaming ...homeward from the resort until after ...midnight. The aero-race was the star ...attraction. It consisted of a bicycle race ...between Harry and Gertrude Preston ...on a steep inclined plane, which is ...broken at a distance from the ground, ...where they make a leap on their wheels ...of about 30 feet to another plane, which ...takes them to the ground. It only lasts ...a few seconds, but those few seconds are ...thrilling.

It was the formal opening of Calhoun, Southern and Park Word, and all were well ...patronized. There were sports at all three ...as well as dancing. Nirella's Fourteenth ...regiment orchestra was at Calhoun, the ...Second Brigade orchestra at Southern, ...while at Oakwood the Mozart orchestra ...played for the dancers. A number of ...new attractions were at the Southern, ...notably the "crystal maze" and the "tri... angle" have been added. Calhoun had a ...special vaudeville bill. While it rained ...the crowds were able to secure plenty ...of shelter during the afternoon.

PIG IRON OUTPUT WILL BE SMALLER

Many of the Valley Furnaces Will Be Out of Blast This Summer.

ONE-FOURTH OFF IN JUNE

The present summer will be the slowest in pig iron production throughout the country for the past four years. While there has not been adopted as yet, at least, any formal policy of closing down, informal talks among the various operators and the general condition of the pig iron market makes it imperative that there should be a restriction of production.

It is estimated, on good authority, that June will see from 25 to 30 per cent of the valley furnaces go out of blast. This will mean a curtailment of the payrolls to a very considerable extent and is bound to make itself felt.

The cause of the shutdown is the well-known present conditions of demand.

The furnace capacity at present is far larger than the demand. The abnormal demand of the past two years has caused the addition of so much capacity that the present slump is especially pronounced. The rather free policy of operation late last summer and in the fall resulted in an overproduction that took away a chance to operate for a couple of months in the early winter, after the market had improved, and unduly depressed prices.

It required at that time a formal meeting of the furnace operators to agree on some policy, and a committee was named to look into the matter and report its recommendations. The advice of the committee was a 33 1-3 restriction, but by the time this advice came the various furnaces were already running so short that their decrease of production was greater than that advised.

The necessity for such an agreement does not appear to be urgent at present. The furnacemen will of their own accord, it is said, stretch out the usual summer closedown to greater length than usual in order to meet the changed condition. There has been some smartening of demand recently, but it is taken as merely the June spurt, which does not possess significance.

"August or later" is the way one furnace operator places the time when there will again be anything approaching regular operation of the valley furnaces. The demand that became so pronounced in March gave many of the stacks work until June and some of them work into that month. That buying lasted but the one month and the end of the work awarded is in sight.

There are some big foundry iron contracts which must be filled and these will keep some of the stacks in operation. Beaver furnaces are the ones which will be the smallest in production this summer.

ARMY WALKING MATCH CAUSES FATAL RESULTS

Of 2,000 French Soldiers Participating Several Are Dead, Many Prostrated.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, May 30.—Fatal results followed the army walking match yesterday, from the Place de la Concorde to St. Germain and back, a distance of about 28 miles, in which 2,000 soldiers from many regiments took part. Reports received by the ministry of war show that 42 men are missing and a number of them are believed to have succumbed to hardships.

Besides those missing 84 men were taken to hospitals along the course in various states of prostration. Six were in a serious condition, one man is dead and another is in a dangerous condition. Some reports place the number of dead at four.

In the chamber of deputies today War Minister Andre was severely criticised for permitting the contest, which is denounced as brutal. Gen. Andre admitted that a mistake had been made, and a vote of confidence was passed only by a narrow majority.

The winner of the match, a private in the One Hundred and Forty-ninth regiment of the line, did the distance in six hours, 14 minutes and 2 seconds.

REFUSE TO RECEDE FROM ANTI-SLAVERY PLANK

Obstacle to Union Between United Presbyterians and Southern Body.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENVILLE, May 30.—The United Presbyterian general assembly consumed the greater part of the morning session with a discussion on the question of union with the Associated Reformed Presbyterian Church of the South. A basis of union has already been referred to its presbyteries by the Associate Reformed church, and this basis has been sent to the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church for adoption. It is a modification of the basis proposed by the United Presbyterian general assembly last year.

The Associate Reformed church objects to subscribing to the article of faith referring to slavery, and the committee recommends that this objection be sustained and be "held in abeyance," inasmuch as these special conditions no longer exist. Dr. McFarland of Muskingum (O.) presbytery bitterly opposed this, stating the adoption of this was equivalent to saying the United Presbyterian church was wrong during the war. The majority of the delegates considered this a dead issue.

After the resolutions were hopelessly entangled with amendments, the question of basis of union was recommitted to the committee. It is considered sure of adoption later in the week.

One hour of the afternoon meeting was given over to a joint memorial service, participated in by the local post G. A. R., and citizens of Greenville, followed by an address by the Rev. Charles Watson, secretary of the board of foreign missions, who has just returned from an extensive tour of the United Presbyterian missions in Egypt and India.

MANY HURT IN RACE RIOT IN PHILADELPHIA

Five Sent to Hospital as Result of Fight Started by Children.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, PA., May 30.—A race riot between white and colored persons occurred at Thirtieth and Wharton streets late this afternoon, and before the police succeeded in quelling the disturbance five persons were seriously hurt and a score of others were more or less roughly handled.

Those most seriously injured who were taken to a hospital are:

ILONE MENTEZ, aged 6 years, shot in the back.

JESSE WALLER, colored, 28 years, stabbed in back and arms.

ROBERT MCCULLOUGH, 30 years, shot in the back.

LIZZIE LANGDON, 18 years, shot in left side.

POLICEMAN ALBERT GIBSON, badly cut about head and possible fracture of the skull.

The police have not yet ascertained the direct cause of the trouble. At any rate, a fight was started between white and colored children, in which elders became involved. Bricks and other missiles were soon flying through the air. The mob grew larger, and finally clubs and pistols were brought into play.

Pittsburgher Is Elected.

ST. LOUIS, May 30.—The national skat congress today elected new officers, among them William Sievert of Pittsburgh, who was elected to the board of directors.

Returns from Beer Tax About $50,000 Short

The report of the Pittsburgh district internal revenue collector to Washington this month will show a decrease of about $50,000 as the result of the refusal of the Allegheny county license court to allow the local breweries to do business for the first two weeks of May.

American Artist Honored.

PARIS, May 30.—The jury of the Salon des Artists Francaise has awarded a medal to the American artist, Seymour Thomas, for his portrait of Henry Vignaud, secretary of the United States embassy. Mr. Thomas is now at St. Louis representing the American artists of Paris.
